Nomination of Attorney-General Hoar to the Supreme Bench.

The Proposition to Detain the Spanish Gunboats.

Debate in the Senate on the Question.

Personal Explanation by Senator Brownlow.

An Investigation Ordered Into the Cause of the Avondale Disaster.

The Probable Vacancy in the Cabinet—District-Attorney Pierrepont Spoken of in Connection with It—The Woman's Suffrage Question—Slavery Before Social Ostracism in the New-York Times—Congress—Social Life at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The long-expected nomination of Attorney-General HOAR to the vacancy on the Supreme Bench was sent to the Senate to-day. Judge HOAR's distinguished abilities are universally conceded, and his elevation to the Supreme Bench is received with perfect satisfaction by all, and by none more than by those who have business with the Attorney-General's Office. Many of his personal admirers had hoped that he would be relieved from public responsibilities altogether, and permitted to retire to private life. Speculation is now rife as to the successor in the Attorney-General's office. The person believed to be most prominent in the President's mind, at present, is Hon. EDWARDS PIERREPONT, of New-York.

THE SPANISH GUNBOATS.

Mr. CARPENTER was listened to very attentively in the Senate to-day during his sixty or seventy minutes' speech in support of his resolution to detain the Spanish gunboats. He made a strong speech in favor of Cuba, full of law and facts, maintaining that war in the international meaning of the term existed in the island. His argument was based mainly on the words in the act of 1818: "Or any colony, district or people with whom the United States are at peace." Mr. SUMNER replied to Mr. CARPENTER, taking up these words and giving the reasons why they were introduced in the act in question, which was to most exactly a case similar to the present, Spain being then, as she is now, at war with her colonies. There appeared to be a disposition on the part of several Senators to favor Cuba a little, and several questions were put to Mr. SUMNER on the subject. The matter was not, however, before the Senate, regularly, and the resolution was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee.

THE CUBAN QUESTION.

The clerks at the State Department are now busily engaged in making transcripts of all the official papers relating to the Spanish-Cuban struggle, which are to be laid before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to the end that Congress may have some intelligible and trustworthy statement of the whole subject.

SENATOR BROWNLOW'S EXPLANATION.

Senator BROWNLOW to-day made his personal explanation concerning his recent course in Tennessee. It was read from the Clerk's desk by the Secretary of the Senate. Its language was coarse, filthy and outrageous. He attacked his colleagues in the House and was ruled out of order by Vice-President COLFAX, who stopped the reading of the document, no Senator having the manliness to interpose against the tirade. They pitied the weakness and impotent rage of the poor shattered old man, and allowed him to say what he pleased. He assailed and denounced the Knoxville correspondent of the TIMES for telling the truth about him, and wound up with a general denunciation of all who dared to question his fealty to Republicanism. The Senate seemed to be thankful when the reading was concluded, and several members expressed the hope that he would not be heard from again. It was a most disgraceful infliction, and was felt for the barroom instead of the Senate chamber.

THE DECAY OF AMERICAN COMMERCE.

Messrs. WINCHESTER, BOOLS and ROWLAND, representatives of the Shipowners' Association of New-York, were before the Select Committee on the Decay of American Commerce to-day, and presented the report recently adopted at the meeting of the Association in New-York on the 8th inst. They presented the subject in several new aspects, and submitted statistics and facts showing that the commerce of the great lakes was rapidly following that of the ocean, and passing into foreign hands. They furnished much new information to the Committee, and the session was one of much interest on both sides.

THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE.

The franking privilege was discussed to-day at a meeting of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads of the House, and, after an hour's consideration, a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. HILL, FINCH and ADAMS, was appointed to collect facts and evidence on the subject, and prepare a report in reference to it. The Post Offices now in course of erection in New-York and Boston were also talked over, more especially by the appropriations and contracts, and it was decided that a portion of the Committee should visit both these cities during the holidays, and examine everything pertaining to those buildings. Some of the disappointed Ring contractors in New-York have employed professional lobby agents here to work against the supervising Architect and his plans, and they began their work to-day by filing charges against him with the House Post Office Committee, to the effect that he has already spent more money than has been appropriated. This is untrue; but that is of no consequence for their purposes.

CONTESTED ELECTION CASES.

The contested election cases of COVODE vs. FORNEY and VAN WYCK vs. GREENE have been submitted on printed arguments, and will probably be ready to report to the Committee this week, though they are not likely to be reported to the House before the holiday adjournment.

SOMBRE RECEPTIONS.

The ladies of the families of the several Cabinet Ministers held morning receptions to-day, which were attended by a large number of callers, notwithstanding the inclement weather. The well-known Mexican Minister, whose Secretary Free resides; the famous Bavard House, where Secretary BOUTWELL has quarters; the remodeled, refurnished and spacious Gwin mansion, Ex-President's Buchanan, now the residence of Postmaster-General CRESWELL, the modest quarters of Secretary BOUTWELL, and the cozy parlors of Secretary COX, were aglow with cordial hospitality and graceful elegance. Everything was in keeping with the requirements and simplicity of a republican court. Mrs. FISH received with stately elegance, and was assisted by her daughter Mrs. WHELPLEY. Mrs. BOUTWELL was assisted by Miss CASS, daughter of Commodore CASS, and Mrs. BOUTWELL and Mrs. COX by their daughters respectively. Mrs. CRESWELL's fine taste exhibited in the refitting and furnishing of the mansion, which, in ante-bellum days, was so well known in social circles, and which has since passed out of historical, is highly and deservedly complimented. The transformation is complete.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

The action of the Wyoming Legislature in conferring suffrage upon women, will bring the subject directly before Congress, as all acts of a Territorial Legislature to be valid must have the approval of Congress. This brings up the issue in a quarter where it could not fare under any other circumstances, and Congress will prepare to meet it. In the meantime, the women's suffrage advocates will take heart and will address themselves to the convention of Hon. JOHN MORRISSEY, Hon. WILLARD SAULSBURY, Hon. FERNANDO WOOD, Hon. SAMUEL COX, and other bitterly-opposed democrats.

THE CENSUS BILL.

The Census bill will pass the House to-morrow. It got out of the Committee of the Whole to-day, and got through its stages in the House. Should the Senate fail to pass the bill before the adjournment, a joint resolution will probably be passed repealing the revising clause of the last Congress act, which provides that if a new law be not passed by Jan. 1, 1870, the 1850 census shall be taken under the provisions of the old law.

ANOTHER INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

The State Department is in receipt of some official correspondence from the British Government, stating that an International Exposition is to be held in this country in 1871, in which the United States is invited to participate.

THE MORRIS.

The Senate agreed to-day to the House resolution of adjournment from the 22d to the 5th of JANUARY.

MESSENGER.

Among the distinguished gentlemen on the floor of the Senate to-day were Secretary BOUTWELL and Governor WALKER, of Virginia. Consul PERRY, of Aspinwall, is in the city.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

NOMINATIONS.

The President made the following nominations to the Senate to-day: E. R. HOAR, of Massachusetts, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; E. D. LATTNER, to be United States Attorney for the District of California; JAMES W. PURVIANCE, to be Attorney for the Western District of Tennessee; DAVID W. HOUSTON, to be Marshal for Nevada; EDGAR W. HILLYER, to be Judge of the United States District Court of Nevada; JAMES M. JOHNSON, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Ninth District of New-York; JAMES A. ATLEE, to be Assessor for the Second District of New-York; RICHARD BRADLEY, of Indiana, Consul at Jerusalem; HENRY C. BOWEN, to be Pension Agent at St. Paul, Minn.; RICHARD F. WAY, to be Receiver of Public Moneys for the Helena District, Montana.

THE POSTAL CONVENTION WITH GREAT BRITAIN.

Postmaster-General CRESWELL received a cable telegram on the 14th inst. from the Postmaster-General at London, announcing the execution by the British Post Office on that day, of the new postal convention to come into operation on the 1st of January next. The articles of this convention were drafted and executed at Washington on the 30 inst., and forwarded in the mail dispatched from New-York on Saturday, the 4th inst., by the Inman steamship City of Brussels, which made the quickest transatlantic passage on record. Only ten days intervened between the execution of the convention at Washington and London.

RUBBER PATENT CASE.

The case of the Providence Rubber Company, appellants, vs. CHARLES GOODYEAR, Executor, et al, was further argued to-day in the Supreme Court, in appeal from the Circuit Court for the District of Rhode Island.

STAND CASKS.

The Committee of Internal Revenue officials, to whom was referred the subject of a change in the recent order of Commissioner DELANO concerning the use of stand casks, have, upon consultation, decided that no reasons exist why any alteration or modification of the Commissioner's order should be made, and, therefore, decline to make such a recommendation. The Committee consisted of First Deputy Commissioner DONALDSON, Third Deputy GEYER and Solicitor SMITH.

THE CONGRESSIONAL LIBRARY.

The report of A. R. SPOFFORD, Librarian of Congress, was submitted to the Senate this morning, showing the condition of the library for the year ending Dec. 1, 1869. At that date there were 165,267 volumes on hand, exclusive of pamphlets and periodicals unbound; 36,000 volumes belong to the law department; 11,000 volumes were added during the year as follows: From purchases, 6,100 volumes; from copyright, 1,851; from deposit by the Smithsonian Institute, 18,791; from presentation, 794; from exchanges, 67. Mr. SPOFFORD calls the attention of the Committee to the expediency of opening the library to the public during opening hours as well as in the day time.

ARMY.

The President has accepted the resignation of Captain HENRY C. WHARTON, of the Engineer Corps; Lieutenant WILLIAM C. FITZSIMMONS, Fourth Artillery, Brevet Brigadier-General R. W. KEENAN has been ordered to relieve Brevet Major-General R. O. TYLER, as Assistant Quartermaster-General of the Military Division of the South, and General TYLER is ordered to report for duty in the Department of the Missouri.

NAVY.

Commander HENRY BERRY has been ordered to ordnance duty at the New-York Navy Yard on the 1st of January.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

SENATE.—WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Dec. 15.

Petitions were presented and appropriately referred for the granting of pensions and relief from disabilities.

COLORED LABORERS IN THE SOUTH.

Mr. SUMNER presented the memorial of the laboring men of the United States, in Convention assembled, asking the intervention of Congress in behalf of the colored laborers in the Southern States. After setting forth the immediate necessity of those people, the paper asks a division and distribution among them of the public lands of the United States, and the appointment of a Commissioner to patenate lands in those South-ern States where there are now no public lands. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands and ordered to be printed.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. CONKLING introduced a joint resolution:

That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue be empowered to offer and pay rewards for the detection and apprehension of persons charged with violations of internal revenue laws, or for any officer of the Internal Revenue Service.

Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. HOWARD, from the Committee on the Pacific Railroad, reported joint resolutions in relation to lands withdrawn for the benefit of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of California, with an amendment.

That the preamble of the resolution recognizing the existence of a public land in Mexico, shall not be construed as a recognition of the rights of either of the adverse parties.

Mr. CONNESS offered a resolution, which was agreed to:

That the Secretary of the Interior transmit to the Senate copies of all orders and decisions of his Department relating to the above, mentioned and the correspondence of his Department with the Mexican Minister concerning the same and the action of the land-officers.

Mr. ANTHONY submitted a joint resolution for the distribution to members of Congress, and other officials who had not received a copy, of the volume in the Department of State of the tributes of the nation to the memory of ABRAHAM LINCOLN. Mr. ANTHONY explained that these tributes were collected in one volume by a representative of Spanish, German and foreign sources of the letters of sympathy related to the death of President LINCOLN. The resolution was passed.

Mr. BUTLER offered a resolution, which was agreed to:

That the Committee on Commerce inquire into the expediency of repealing the laws relating to the discriminating duties, forfeitures and penalties, imposed upon the Customs, and also into the expediency of collecting Customs and naval officers, at the principal ports of the United States.

On motion of Mr. HOWARD, the Senate took up the House resolution, passed yesterday, for a recess from Wednesday, the 22d inst., to Wednesday, the 5th proximo.

Mr. FESSENDEN proposed to amend, providing for an adjournment from the 24th inst. to the 4th proposed. Not agreed to, and the resolution was then concurred in.

THE WASHINGTON INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION.

Mr. HARLAN, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported with amendments a bill to encourage and promote the Industrial Exposition to be held in Washington in the year 1871. Mr. HARLAN stated that the bill simply authorized a corporation for a purpose proposed. It was asked as a act of favor by the parties interested, being desirous of organizing at an early day. He stated that the bill be taken up immediately, when the bill was then read, paragraph by paragraph, with a view of holding the proposed exhibition. Mr. HARLAN moved to strike out the clause calling for a subscription by the citizens of Washington and Georgetown, in connection with a note in the Government. Mr. SUMNER said that in 1871 it was proposed to hold a similar exhibition in London. The country was invited to contribute to that exhibition and he thought, through Commissioners. It deemed advisable to proceed with the bill, it might be better to change the date or to postpone the measure until further information had been received.

Mr. HARLAN said he was not aware of the proposed exhibition at London. This bill, however, provided for an exhibition, either in 1871 or subsequently, as deemed desirable. The bill was then laid over for the present.

MR. BROWNLOW'S EXPLANATION.

Mr. BROWNLOW having been awarded thirty minutes, within which to read a personal explanation, forwarded to the Clerk a document which was read, explanatory of recent proceedings in Congress and his connection therewith. He denied the imputation which his censure had made that under cover of Amnesty he was over favorable to the election of Admiral Farragut to the United States Senate, and cited in proof of his political sincerity his support of Andrew Johnson in opposition to party and Senator Brown by his election to the Senate, and also his vote for Governor Walker, an old line Whig, who had been elected to the Senate, would yield a hearty support to President GRANT and his Administration.

During the reading of the paper the Clerk received a message from the House of Representatives, that the House had adopted a resolution to expel a member for the alleged treasonable conduct of before Tennessee, which was signed against the Union cause, and that the resolution was then read, and the resolution was then read, and the resolution was then read, and

Admiral FARRAGUT was attended, during his sickness in Chicago, by Dr. SAMUEL J. JONES, Dr. WM. O. LYMAN, Dr. J. H. RAUCH, Dr. HAYES and Dr. ASHE, the last of General SHERIDAN's staff. Since his arrival in New-York the Admiral has forwarded to Dr. LYMAN a valuable set of catheters, electro-plated with gold, and suitably inclosed and inscribed; to Dr. JONES a full set of test glasses for the eye; to Dr. RAUCH a dressing gown, and to the other physicians appropriate gifts, accompanied in each case by a warm letter and photographs of himself and his wife.

At a late meeting of the San Francisco Academy of Sciences Professor BOLANDER called attention to the fact, recently reported to him on reliable authority, of a marked rise in the waters of Lake Mono since the earthquake period of 1868, and added that the rise had been followed by a freshening of the water, and the actual disappearance of the dense clouds of flies which formerly deposited their larvæ on the shores of the lake. Professor WHITNEY stated that there is evidence that Lake Mono was once 400 feet higher than now. He added that Great Salt Lake and Pyramid Lake have also risen greatly within a year or two.

The estate in Florida known as Magnolia, upon the western bank of the St. John's River, has recently been purchased by Dr. SETH ROGERS and OLIVER F. HARRIS, and has been greatly improved, with the intention of adopting it as a place and home to visitors from the North who desire to seek restoration to health or a milder climate during the Winter months. The estate comprises about 400 acres, and is situated about twenty-five miles south of Jacksonville, accessible from New-York via Charleston and Savannah landing passengers directly upon the premises. The advantages of Eastern Florida, as a Winter resort, especially for persons suffering from pulmonary complaints, are becoming more widely known and appreciated; and to such as may be disposed to visit that section the Magnolia offers superior attractions in climate, character, not of a hotel, but of a home, where, during the cold months of Winter and the early Spring, the opportunities for boating, riding, walking and other out-door exercise and recreation are uninterrupted, and where the arrangements for domestic comfort are attentively looked after by competent and experienced persons.

The Pittsburg Gazette tells an astonishing story of a dance for the prize of a gold ring at a recent ball in that city. A dozen competitors entered for the contest. At the expiration of twenty minutes four took their seats. The rest whirled on, but at the end of an hour only three couples were on the floor. Another hour elapsed, and another couple gave up from sheer exhaustion. The fiddlers played and played, as well as they were able, and the two couples waltzed and waltzed as rapidly as they could. After five hours and three minutes had elapsed one of the ladies fainted, and her partner politely followed her example. Amid feeble cheers from the weary spectators the ring was awarded to the remaining couple, and all the participants were carried home and put under medical treatment.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS

Blurbs of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture is completed. In the opening the Commissioner says the year has been one of violent tide; of marked consistency and change; of general fruitfulness and local blights; of partial cold and fructifying rains, with periods of drought and fruitfulness of destroying tempest and ravaging flood. The meteorology of the year has been marked and plentiful, threatening disasters which have been partially averted, and attended with various compensations. The effect of these meteorological changes has been more or less injurious, in proportion to the degree of negligence in culture and crudity in condition of heavy or moist lands. In some instances soils which are naturally of superior excellence, but in inferior mechanical condition, have yielded unprofitable returns. The production of the country might be increased hundreds of millions of dollars by mere thorough pulverization of soils, by their proper modification and amelioration, and by the draining of saturated or tenacious lands. The loss from want or these agricultural improvements, serious in any season, is exceptionally large the present year. As another result of a wider range it is seen in the rate of production per acre, extending from diminished returns to utter failure. The monetary returns of the harvest have been equally varied with the degree of natural production. The general financial condition has exhibited a shrinking of values has reduced the prices of abundant crops, and caused a depression which has not been exceeded in the same quarters for years. The wheat farmer, with a full garner, is not joyous over his market returns; while the corn grower, if blessed with a full crop, had no cause for despondency. The cotton grower, who had neither gleaned the market of the world with your production, is jubilant over his golden gains. The difference in values and resulting profits, always varying, yet ever observed in some degree, is more startlingly prominent that usual, and tends to the necessity of accurate calculation of the changing proportions of supply and demand, and the importance of variety in farm production, with due regard to a correct equilibrium between the multiform branches of rural industry.

THE WOOL DEFICIENCY.

A period of depression has been realized by our woolgrowers during the past four years, which has been shared by all other wool-growing countries; but to which has been greatly modified and relieved by the operation of the present tariff, which has prevented the utter prostration of this necessary branch of industry in the present, and assured its rapid encouragement in the future. A sufficient quantity of carpet wools not produced in the country has been admitted from abroad at low duties, and a sufficiency of most grades of clothing wools has been produced at home and sold at lower prices than when foreign wools were admitted at nominal rates, and as impetus has been given to the production of combing wools, which will not only greatly benefit the textile industry, but improve the quality and quantity of mutton in the market of the land. Dissatisfied with present results and gloomy over future prospects, many farmers have sacrificed a portion of their flocks during the last year. It is estimated that near millions of calls were killed for pelts and tallow. American agriculture, in all its branches, is peculiarly subject to periods of elevation and depression from the impulsive action which stimulates overproduction at one time, followed by panic and diminishing energy of the temporarily unprofitable pursuit. The wool industry has suffered, not merely from ordinary causes of fluctuation, but more disastrously still from tariff changes, frequent and extreme as well as unexpected. It is essential to the welfare of this important industry that the present moderate schedule of duties should be continued without modification.

SOUTHERN AGRICULTURE.

The continued high price of cotton has made its culture more profitable than at any former period, and at least in the settled States, a larger amount of money than that of 1869. The yield of the past year exceeded very slightly the estimate of this Department, which was 2,300,000 bales. The present season has witnessed great activity in the culture, an increase of area cultivated, and more general and extensive fertilization, and has also been characterized by drought in the Southboard States, and other causes of diminished production, which have modified the expectations of planters; yet the crop will exceed that of last year, and may reach 2,500,000 bales. It is to be regretted that the tendency is to neglect other crops and concentrate all available labor and capital upon a single product, however profitable. The inevitable result will be more cotton and smaller net returns in money after the purchase of needed supplies, and a reduction of fertility, a slower improvement of neglected lands. This tendency of Southern agriculture is still operative, and may cease to exist only when low prices, disaster and despondency shall again arrest the impolitic and irrational course of production. It is gratifying, however, to note the increase of cotton manufactures in the cotton region, their flourishing condition, their large dividends, and the quality of their yarns and fabrics. Operatives are easily obtained, at reasonable wages, becoming readily inured to habits of systematic industry and rapidly acquiring the requisite skill. At the commencement of the past year there were eighty-six cotton mills reported from Southern States to the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers and Planters, running 225,663 spindles, consuming 81,415,780 pounds. The following are details of returns from the cotton States:

State.	Mills.	Spin.	Average Yarn.	Cotton Spun.	Average Spindle.
Virginia	10	26,000	12½	4,600,000	176.92
North Carolina	17	34,320	12½	8,537,000	248.83
South Carolina	6	21,888	12½	4,372,100	199.74
Georgia	20	60,128	12½	16,624,300	276.70
Alabama	4	2,196	10	400,000	182.15
Mississippi	4	3,752	8	1,457,000	388.43
Texas	4	8,528	9½	1,322,104	155.00
Arkansas	1	624	8½	100,000	160.26
Tennessee	10	22,720	12	1,967,300	174.09

The cotton manufactured in the United States in 1869 was 432,704,976 pounds; in 1868, by these returns, 450,000,000 pounds. At the former date the home consumption was twenty per cent of the crop; in its new forty per cent. As the ratio of consumption in the South will be further increased, the prosperity of the country and of the cotton section will advance.

The sugar interest is rapidly attaining its former proportions. A disposition is indicated to extend its culture beyond the cane plantations of the Mississippi River to Florida, Southern Georgia and Texas. Fruit culture is gaining a prominence which it never before obtained; vineyards of hundreds of acres in extent have been established, and orchards of thousands of acres, with groves of oranges and other tropical fruits. There is evidence of progress also in the use of improved agricultural implements, the employment of fertilizers, and in the general activity and spirit of inquiry which are moving the rural mind of this section.

THE WHEAT CULTURE.

The wheat interest is at present suffering from one of the periodical seasons of depression which are the inevitable result of exclusive reliance upon a single crop. A good yield was obtained last year, and a still larger result the present season, but in combination with financial causes has depressed the price to a lower point than has been reached since 1860. The continuous planting of the new lands of the West with wheat is removing westward, year by year, the centre of wheat production, and increasing the distance of transportation, while the railroads, by their combination and advance of tolls to secure dividends upon watered stock, are increasing in equal ratio the cost of freight. Thus are wheat-growers reaping the fruits of their own improvident husbandry, and suffering exportation and loss from the accident of location. A diversification of industry, both agricultural and manufacturing, will render them masters of the situation, and release them from subservience to the railroads and European wheat markets. The pioneer or exhausting system of culture must be abandoned, at least in the settled States, and capital be used in farm improvements. An judicious investment in draining often pays one hundred per cent the first year; a single horse-hoeing of growing wheat, as reported to this Department, has doubled the yield and paid a thousand per cent upon the cost, and improvement in breeds of farm stock yields large dividends upon the investment.

DISEASES OF STOCK.

The numerous epidemics and zymotic diseases by which our cattle are infected demand the intelligent consideration of the General Government and of the several States. Besides the ordinary diseases to which cattle in open pasture are subjected, the losses from shipping and loss produced by the restraint and unhealthy conditions in which our domestic animals (especially the [illegible] of our cities are confined, [illegible] want of care of stock and to the general ignorance of appropriate treatment, but also to encourage the establishment of institutions where veterinary medicine and hygiene, in their widest application, may be taught, and a class of practitioners be produced capable of solving the problem, how to preserve domestic animals in good health under conditions not natural to the species—it is strongly recommended that a division of veterinary surgery in connection with this Department be established.

INCREASED VALUATION OF FARMS.

The following table, showing the increase of the assessed valuation of farms between 1860 and 1869, a period of great agricultural activity and almost unexampled advance in prices of farm lands, points to the folly of expecting to realize wealth from the soil except by its judicious cultivation:

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Important Order from Major-General Shaler—Disbandment of six Entire Brigade and Two City Regiments—Transfers and Consolidations to be Made Forthwith.

It has been understood for some time in National Guard circles in this City, that Inspector-General McQUADE would report adversely to the continuance of two or three of our City regiments, and would suggest to the Commander-in-Chief the expediency of disbanding one of the four brigades of infantry comprising the First Division. Rumors have been flying about the different armories in relation to these anticipated measures of consolidation and disbandment, and steps were taken in two or three notable instances to secure certain changes deemed desirable by the members of leading organizations. The Fourth Brigade seemed the proper one for demolition as a command, and the fact laid a heavy hand upon the movements of those desirous of winning the silver star of a Brigadier. Under these circumstances well-informed National Guardsmen will not be surprised to find that these transfers and disbandments, which had long been in place immediately, in accordance with orders issued by Governor HOFFMAN, under the provisions of the act passed last Winter by the State Legislature, for the reduction and consolidation of the military force of the State.

The following was the tenor of Major-General SHALER, publishing the decisions of the Commander-in-Chief and specifying the details of this very important movement:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION, N. G. S. N. Y., ORDERS No. 21.—In pursuance with General Orders No. 2, current series, from General Headquarters, the following disbandments, transfers, consolidations and new assignments of the Fourth Brigade are ordered: 1. The Fourth Brigade, and the Fourth Regiments Infantry, are disbanded, and the officers thereof are relieved supernumerary. 2. The First Regiment Infantry, Third Brigade, is transferred to the Second Brigade. 3. The Second Regiment Infantry, Fourth Brigade, is transferred to the Second Brigade. 4. The Twenty-ninth and Seventy-sixth Regiments Infantry, Fourth Brigade, are transferred to the First Brigade. 5. The Fourth Battery Regiment Artillery, Second Brigade, is transferred to the Second Artillery, Second Brigade, and the field and staff officers are relieved supernumerary. 6. The Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, A, C and D, are consolidated, forming a battery of artillery, to be known as the Second Battery Artillery, and will, until further orders, be held at Gowanus Heights, under the temporary command of Major-General LAMMAN, commanding 2. Battery H is transferred to the First Brigade Cavalry. 10. The Battalion Washington Grey Cavalry is consolidated into one troop, its officers rendered supernumerary, and its troopers assigned to the troop of Lieutenant-Colonel MARVIN M. VAN BUREN, commanding.

11. In the disbandment of the Second and Fourth Regiments Infantry, with the Fourth Brigade, the officers of the First and Fourth Brigades are respectively charged, by the special instructions contained in General Orders No. 14, series of 1869, from General Headquarters, with the duties of their respective offices; attention is called to paragraphs 11 and 12 of that order.

12. Upon the receipt of this order, the commanding officers of the brigade and regiments above named will immediately report, in person, to the commanding officers of the brigades to which they are respectively assigned.

13. The commanding officers of Batteries B, C and K, will report in person, to these Headquarters immediately, for instructions.

14. Batteries A, D, E, F, G and I, will under the command of their respective officers, assemble at the armory of the First Regiment Artillery, at 8 o'clock P. M., on the 9th instant, for inspection by the Division Inspector of Artillery, under the supervision of Colonel D. W. THOM, Inspector-General. The provisions of paragraph 3 of General Order No. 67, current series, will be strictly observed, and all officers and soldiers who are retained, and who are assigned to command will report to these headquarters for instructions.

15. The commanding officer of Battery H, (to be known as the Second Battery,) will report, upon the receipt of this order, forthwith report to the commanding officer of brigade cavalry, under whose direction he will proceed at once to reorganize his command in the manner ordered.

16. The battalion Washington Grey Cavalry will assemble under the command of its officers, for inspection and consolidation, at its armory, at 8 o'clock P. M., on the 9th instant, for the immediate duty to be effected under the direction of the commanding officer, First Brigade Cavalry, and the command will, until further orders, be known as the Troop Washington Grey Cavalry.

17. The attention of all officers rendered supernumerary by this order is directed to section 42, Military Code.

18. All the books of record and returns, papers, documents, &c., the property of the State of New-York, pertaining to the headquarters of brigades, regiments or battalions, or to the companies disbanded or discontinued in accordance with this order, and the headquarter flag of the Fourth Brigade, will be forwarded to these headquarters by the respective commanding officers for transmission to General Headquarters.

19. All master-out rolls, reports and papers which are required to be forwarded to General Headquarters, will be sent through the intermediate channels of communication.

20. The attention of the members of the organizations disbanded by this order is called to paragraph XV, of General Orders No. 14, series of 1869.

21. The brigade commanders of the First and Second Brigades (infantry and First Brigade Cavalry), will, upon the receipt of this order, make the orders ordered, make report thereof in writing to these headquarters.

22. The master rolls required to effecting the disbandments and consolidations above specified, will be furnished on application to these headquarters.

By order of

Major-General ALEXANDER SHALER.

JOHN TOWNSEND, Colonel and A. A. G. and Chief of Staff.

Release of Two United States Prisoners.

The portals of Ludlow-street Jail opened yesterday to give egress to two United States prisoners, held in confinement for fifteen and seventeen months respectively. The captives, named ANDREW RICHARDSON and HENRY JENKINS, were committed in the well-known Fulton County conspiracy, and were indicted during Ex-District-Attorney BARLOW's administration, upon alleged subornation of perjury in having produced false affidavits concerning Collector BAILEY. The recommendations for their release was made by the latter gentleman and yesterday he in his office, Treasury-row. Both prisoners were discharged on their own recognizances, to appear when wanted.

Ninth Assembly District Union Republican Association.

The Ninth Assembly District Union Republican Association held a special meeting last evening at Elocution Buildings, at which Mr. GEORGE STARR presided. Mr. NORMAN STRATON stated the object of the meeting to be to take measures for bringing to the notice of the Republicans of the district the fact that the nomination under the new organization of the party would take place this and to-morrow evenings. For this purpose a committee of fifteen was appointed to prepare and distribute circulars, with power also to publish a notice of the proceedings in the TIMES, TRIBUNE and SUN. The meeting then adjourned.

Funeral of German Resident.

Mr. FERDINAND SCHUERMANN-POPE, a well-known German-American lecturer, of Philadelphia, addressed the Turnverein of this City on "Woman and Christianity," at their hall, No. 27 Orchard-street, on Monday evening, and on "Ancient and Modern Views of the World," at No. 108 Prince-street, on Tuesday evening.

Dr. SCHOPPE has written a letter from Carlisle, Penn., to the German Legal Aid Society of this City, thanking them for their support. He states that he did not plead for a pardon disgracing him for lifetime, but at a new trial, to be enabled to prove his innocence. A German of Williamsburg has contributed the fee for defraying the expenses of the Schoppe trial.

LAWYERS LITIGANT.

Fractious Suits by Ex-Assistant District-Attorney—Misrepresentations—Heavy Damages Claimed by Counsel HERMAN C. HAWKINS from George Bliss, Jr.

An interesting action is on trial in the Superior Court, Trial Term, Part I., before Judge MORNIS and a jury, in which General HERMAN C. HAWKINS seeks to recover heavy damages from GEORGE BLISS, JR., for alleged misrepresentation in the purchase of stock. The complaint alleges that in March, 1864, the defendant represented to plaintiff that he had a good investment in stocks, by which from fifteen to twenty per cent could be made; that in use the Wyoming Valley Railroad and Coal Company; that he was the counsel and legal adviser of the Company, and knew all its affairs; that it was a good financial condition, and that he was now good stock to hold. Plaintiff relying on these representations, intrusted the defendant with authority to dispose of certain of plaintiff's stock, and defendant directed such purchases to the amount of [illegible] part of the material representations of fact, and defendant directed such purchase, and thereby induced him from time to time to invest in such stock, as the stock was purchased, [illegible] began to decline, and went down [illegible] Plaintiff was obliged to sell at a heavy loss, for which he claims damages to the amount of $85,000. The defendant denies all the allegations alleged to be misrepresentations, and an opinion in relation to the condition of the Company and the value of the stock as an investment. The defendant claims that the stock was understood to have been worth its value, interest added, and in consequence of long delay, the changes have taken place. At the high figures paid in the company [illegible] After opening the case to the jury, counsel for plaintiff proceeded to examination of the [illegible] taken before trial. On that examination defendant testified that he had known the plaintiff for years, but one lawyer knows another; that he was counsel for, and was associated with him in the Committee on Arms and Trophies in the Metropolitan Fair; at that time was counsel to the Wyoming Valley Coal and Railroad Company, and had been such for a few months previous; had not at that time examined the defendant's title to their lands; had not seen their books with any sufficiency to correctly [illegible] himself, the defendant testified that he had examined the [illegible] as early as January, 1864, or early [illegible] that is, he examined all the papers and [illegible] relating to the company, and [illegible] filed copies of the [illegible] Valley Coal Company; the opinion of two [illegible] counsel, one being Judge WOODWARD, [illegible] the judge, the book, the minutes [illegible] another book, the contents of which [illegible] before the Supreme Court; [illegible] with the plaintiff his impression in [illegible] defendant was a stockholder; [illegible] time definitely when he did become [illegible] what he did purchase was at the [illegible] 1863 to 1870; part of his stock he held [illegible] and the balance over the Coal; claims [illegible] the indebtedness of the Coal; [illegible] company at the time he had the conversation with the plaintiff, at that time he had ascertained something as to what the original capital of the Company [illegible] and had also ascertained as to its [illegible] by examination of the weekly reports from the mines; had understood [illegible] the Coal Company was in a financial position; has learned nothing since that he did not know then as to the financial position of the Company and the value of its stock; some of the facts tending to show the Company in a good financial condition were, that it owned a mine producing large amount of coal daily; that it owned a large amount of other coal lands; that near Scranton, which was then valuable and increasing in value daily; the price of coal was then such as to pay a good profit, and the Company was about to commence the business of delivering tax-free coal at New-York and Elizabeth; [illegible] the price of coal rising constantly. The examination was at great length to verify these, as all his conversations with the plaintiff, he defendant disclosed all that was within his knowledge in relation to the Company; that he disclosed to him the facts of the Company; that he took to him the faith of a lawyer; that he [illegible] the Company of an adjoining estate; that such purchase was made, and he so advised the plaintiff unconditionally, the result being a purchase by plaintiff and by himself; that the defendant thought stock was due to the decline in the price of coal, and [illegible] the decline in the development of the mammoth vein and delay caused by the Lackawanna Coal Company in bringing the coal to market, as the Company had to bring its coal over the Lackawanna Company's road.

The plaintiff testified that the defendant introduced the subject to him at the Sanitary Fair, saying at the same time: "You who have been in the field have not had the same opportunities to make money as we who remained at home." He then recommended to him this stock, saying that he was a partner in the firm of Jackson Perkins, and that a brokers firm in Wall-street—JEROME, BIGGS & CO.—had taken an option; or had made a contract to take an option on a large portion of the stock, the result of which was that HAWKINS gave BLISS an order to be delivered to his brokers for the purchase of 1,000 shares. Then, and at the time, he did not have charged BLISS with fraud face to face, but had done so to other parties. The case still on.

POLICE TRIALS.

Complaint Against Captain Walsh—Serious Charges Against the Police Force by Mr. Burgh—A Drunken Sergeant Before the Board.

Commissioners BRENNAN yesterday investigated a large number of charges against members of the Police Force. Some of the cases developed matters of interest to the public, and in one instance another and more serious complaint was evolved from an investigation.

PATRICK O'BRIEN, of the Second Precinct, was arraigned for violation of the rules in leaving his post and going into the Station House and going to bed. The evidence was so far conclusive that this serious but apparently unexplainable offense had been committed, that the case was referred to the Board.

Sergeant HENRY HOUCHINSON, of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, was tried on a charge of intoxication. He was convicted in the affidavit of RICHARD FURNEY, of Bleecker-street. This document declares that FURNEY was private watchman at the Fulton Bank, and that on the night of the 1st inst. he saw a woman on the stoop of the bank. He went up to her to see who she was, when she screamed out, and just then a man stepped up and struck him with his fist, saying he was a policeman and would arrest FURNEY. The latter asked for his number, when the man said he was a Sergeant and had no number. The janitor coming up and telling FURNEY who the latter released FURNEY, who then asked here he belonged, and he said the Second Precinct, but FURNEY said this was not so, when the Sergeant said he was JOHN SMITH, of the Sixth Precinct, and on further inquiring he found no such person, and also ascertained that HOUCHINSON was Sergeant of the Twenty-ninth Precinct. The case was being heard when Sergeant WILLIAM B. FARRELL, of the Second Precinct, volunteered to conduct the defense of HOUCHINSON, but no evidence was made plain the fact that he was a drunkard. Mr. BRENNAN, one of the Commissioners, BRENNAN subjected charges against him also, and both cases were referred to the Board.

The event of the session, however, was the trial of Captain EDWARD WALSH, of the Fourteenth Precinct, on complaint made by Mr. HENRY BURGH, which was found on the following facts: Nov. 27, Mr. BURGH and Mr. CARPENTER found in Broadway a horse attached to a sand cart with a large running block on his back. They entered the house to be taken from the cart and place it upon the ground, after which Mr. BURGH called up Patrolman JAMES SHIELD, of the Fourteenth Precinct, and ordered him to take charge of the horse. When the officer first saw the animal he was reeling from side to side, with his head to the back-board, but Mr. BURGH said CARPENTER had helped to take out a rack so having used the horse it would not be the worse if they would go to the Station House and make the complaint. CARPENTER did so, and HOUSTON took the driver and horse. When CARPENTER, HOUSTON and the driver came before Captain WALSH, at the Station House, and the driver had been stated, Captain WALSH asked CARPENTER to go to the Police Court and make the complaint. But that gentleman positively refusing as he had other business on hand, Captain WALSH discharged the prisoner. Upon the charge Mr. BURGH claimed that Captain WALSH had been guilty of misconduct, and the latter claimed that he could not send the driver to Court unless CARPENTER went as the complainant, because the officer had seen no cause sufficient to proceed upon the case, and had so reported. The horse had intoxicated a large crowd of people, and had not even his wagon wrecked, and was not a competent complainant in the case. Mr. BURGH improved the occasion to make an extended address upon the duties of his Society to the Police Force of New-York, but branched off to state some very serious charges against the force. He declared that almost every night he saw members of the force in full uniform on the streets, drunk or conversing prostitutes. He particularized one case of a roundsman whom he saw in the upper Bowery on the night of the general election, grossly drunk, and afterward and seen in open day on the Broadway run shop. Judge BOWERSMAN, who had replaced Mr. BRENNAN in the chair, desired Mr. BURGH whenever he came upon such cases to report them immediately to the Police Commissioners and thanked the Society for its action in reading the force of such demoralizing conduct. Judge BOWERSMAN thought Mr. BURGH owed it to the community to do this much for their protection. A protracted and spicy discussion of the points of law involved in the case of policemen's duty in enforcing the law respecting cruelty to animals followed. As a Convention of the general trade they were on duty, bound to protect the forty-barrel man as well as the 300-barrel man.

Mr. MORGAN explained that his remarks on this point were intended to refer only to the small reduceries where dishonesty was practiced—those reduceries who mark their packages as containing forty-six gallons, when in reality they contain only forty-five.

Mr. MERRILL, of Boston, thought the weight system, if adopted, would simplify the business throughout the world. It was now in vogue in Europe altogether.

At the afternoon session Mr. FLAGLER asked to have an intimation from the Pittsburg delegation as to whether the delegation from that city would abide by the resolution fixing the standard of gravity adopted this morning, even though the resolution as to selling by weight should not be approved by the Convention. The Pittsburg delegation replied affirmatively.

Mr. WICKS, of New-York, thought the delegates here would unanimously comply with the terms of the resolution.

Mr. FLAGLER thought no good result would be obtained by a further discussion of the proposition to adopt the weight system. Pittsburg was determined to follow that system in any event, and he was willing the trade there should give it a fair trial. He moved, therefore, that all further discussion of the question be postponed till a future day.

Mr. WICKS, of New-York, briefly addressed the Convention in opposition to the proposed change, after which the question was taken on postponing the discussion, and it was carried in the affirmative. The Convention then adjourned sine die.

CITY MISSIONS.

Forty-Third Annual Meeting of the City Mission and Tract Society—Interesting Statistics.

The New-York City Mission and Tract Society held its forty-third annual meeting yesterday at 3:30 P. M., at No. 30 Bible House, Rev. THOS. DEWITT presiding. The Treasurer's report showed that $[illegible] had been received and $46,365 15 disbursed during the past year. Of the special funds for building stations and chapels, $21,155 60 were received and expended. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, together with an Executive Committee of twenty-one in the first instance, and a Board of Directors consisting of city members:

Rev. Thos. DeWitt, D. D., President; A. R. Wolmer, Vice-President; Lewis E. Jackson, Corresponding Secretary; David D. Terry, Recording Secretary; Morris K. Jesup, Treasurer; Rev. E. P. Ferris, Assistant Treasurer; Rev. George J. Mingins, Superintendent of Missions.

The work of the year is succinctly stated in the Directors' report as follows:

Mission stations, 10; missionaries, 40; mission sanitary visits, 109,639; tracts distributed, 1,175,000; voluntary visitors, 311; Bibles given, [illegible]; Testaments given, 668; volumes loaned, 4,375; children led to Sabbath schools, 1,800; children led to day schools, 4,125; persons induced to join Bible classes, 363; prayer-meetings attended by attendant in attendance, 16,664; temperance pledges, 2,661; religious meetings, 3,313; backsliders reclaimed, 225; persons united with churches, 410; 2,600 prayer meetings, gross attendance, 76,872; 1,213 preaching services, gross attendance, 74,615; 43 open-air services, gross attendance, 27,709; 26 meetings for friendless, gross attendance, 1,300; 3,423 families visited and 6,000 persons aided, and counsel bestowed, $6,211 49.

Resolutions were reported from the Executive Committee, which provided that the "Christian ordinance" be administered at the different missions, with a view to establishing a sort of permanent church, at each. This met with opposition on account of the different methods of administering certain of these ordinances in the different churches, and Rev. Dr. R. Cornelius said that the plan, if adopted, would probably lead to the separation of the Baptists from the Society. After considerable discussion, however, the resolutions were adopted and the meeting closed with devotional exercises.

Board of Education—Finances—The Public Schools—A Teacher Removed.

At the meeting of the Board last evening, a resolution was adopted closing the evening schools on Christmas Eve. A resolution of the Finance Committee was adopted ordering a requisition upon the Comptroller for $200,000, the balance of the Education Fund for the year 1869. The same Committee reported in favor of the payment of $24 to Wm. DOYLE, in compensation for injuries received by him from the falling of the ceiling of his room when he was present as a pupil. The report was adopted.

HUGH DUFFY, Principal of Grammar School No. 29, was removed by resolution from his position for neglect of duty. The Committee on Sites reported in favor of authorizing the Trustees of Ward's Island to establish a new primary school in said ward between Fifteenth-street on the north, Forty-third-street on the south, Third-avenue on the west and First-avenue on the east. A resolution was adopted closing the public schools on Monday, the 2d of January. Mr. CHAPIN, from the Committee on By-laws, presented a lengthy report containing many amendments to the by-laws. The report was adopted without opposition. The Board then adjourned to Dec. 19, 5 P. M.

The Board of Health and Explosive Oils.

The weekly report submitted yesterday to the Board of Health, of explosive oils tested, gives the following result:

Oils Below Legal Standard by Both Tests.—Theodore Flecker, No. 127 Spring [illegible] of temporary insanity, on his return home took up a revolver and shot himself dead.

Mr. THOMPSON was a young man, comparatively, being about 28 years of age, and had been well known in the New-York Swamp for the past few years.

ONE WAY TO GET A DIVORCE.

Charming Proceedings Before a Referee—A Wife's Consent to a Divorce Procured While She is Confined in a Lunatic Asylum—Alleged Misconduct on Her Lawyers.

In the Supreme Court, Special Term, yesterday, Judge FREEDMAN refused to confirm the report of a referee granting a divorce, on the ground of adultery, in the case of Moses S. HINCKLEY vs. MARTHA A. HINCKLEY, because of the irregularities set forth in the following opinion:

This is an action for a divorce upon the ground of adultery. The answer contains a general denial. Upon the trial the counsel of the parties agreed that the issues be granted and entered that the issues in the case shall be settled, be referred to a referee named in the order, to hear and determine the same. No testimony of witnesses took place. The reference was perfected with, however, the consent, and at the request, of the counsel for the plaintiff. I am inclined to think that the whole case, including the material matter, was taken out of the ordinary course. But objections of a merely formal character need be passed over. The report, however, must be treated as the report of the referee. The defendant, by the answer, denies the charge. The proof, if it be credited, tends to show that the defendant, by general conduct, exposed himself to a slight cross-examination of his character for chastity. The complaint, however, in form of defendant's adultery depended wholly upon the evidence to be drawn from certain circumstances, given against such adultery. A witness who would not write her own name, defendant's attorney, testified that the defendant had admitted to him the ground that the evidence was insufficient, which, he said, was entered and to which rather he only consented. No evidence was offered on behalf of the defendant. The referee, however, upon the evidence of defendant's counsel, report the written consent of defendant's attorney to the confirmation of the report and of the order of divorce. This conduct on the part of the attorney for the defendant, and with, in fact, an utterly at variance with the duty which he owed to his client, I feel it my duty to make, and did make, some inquiries of the parties concerned. The result was that I have satisfied myself that the defendant was contained in the Lunatic Asylum on Blackwell's Island within ten days after the reference, and the summons on the; that she was confined there on the alleged lunatic at the time her answer and affidavit of merits purport to have been sworn to by her before a notary public of this City, and that the affidavit purporting to be the act of the defendant, and purporting to be sworn to in the city of Brooklyn, and purporting to be taken before a notary public of this City, was in fact sworn to and taken before the original date of the writing purported by the attorney, and that the relief upon by him as the defendant's affidavit of merits, if signed, has not been altered, and that she has not been procured. The whole conduct, therefore, of the defendant's attorney appears to be very, very low, to an impertinent degree, in the opinion of the court. In addition thereto the evidence taken before the referee is not a preponderance of the evidence, and, therefore, the report and the order of divorce must be stricken out.

The Incurables on Blackwell's Island. The Hospital for Incurables, on Blackwell's Island, is a most worthy institution, in which many unfortunates, of both sexes, are yearly provided with the bare necessities of life. At present there are upward of one hundred inmates, many of them paralytics, rheumatics, and in a pitiable condition. Many of these are individuals, to furnish them with a good Christmas dinner. Delicacies for the occasion may be sent directly to the Island, or left at Mrs. KAMPE's, No. 257 W. 24th-st., or Mrs. VAN DYKE's, No. 30 E. 42d-st. The object is so good that no further appeal will be needed to attract it.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

FEDERAL TAXATION OF THE ISSUES OF STATE BONDS—REMITTING OFFENCE OF FORGERY BEFORE AND DAVIS.

No. 30.—December Term, 1869.—The President, Directors and Company of the Peoples Bank vs. Jeremiah Pease, Collector of Internal Revenue.—Dissenting opinion by Mr. Justice NELSON; concurred in by Mr. Justice Davis. I am unable to assent to the opinion of a majority of the Court in this case. The Peoples Bank was incorporated by the Legislature of the State of Maine in 1836, with a deposit of $200,000, and was invested with the customary powers of a banking institution, and, among others, the power of receiving deposits, discounting paper and issuing notes or bills for circulation. The constitutional authority of the State to create these institutions and to clothe them with full banking powers is hardly doubted. But it may be useful to point for a few moments to the source of this authority. The tenth amendment to the Constitution is as follows: The power not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people. On looking into the Constitution, it will be found that there is no clause or provision which relates expressly or by implication to the subject of banks. On looking into the organic legislation, adopted immediately after the Federal Government, we find the only clause which prohibited it to these. In the discussions on the subject of the adoption of the Constitution, it was urged that the Constitution should contain a provision which should prohibit the States from emitting bills of credit, and the question of the propriety of such a provision was discussed in the Convention, which finally adopted it in the form in which it now stands. As a consequence, adopted this power to the Federal Government, in the clause which prohibited it to the States, and which prohibited it to them

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

The English journals still discuss the question of reciprocity between the United States and Canada. The Times says England is relieved of an awkward question by the Senate's rejection of the treaty, in the commercial and political estrangement from her colony, which would be the result of free trade. The Morning Telegraph predicts some modification of the policy of the United States toward Canada, from the supposed free trade proclivities of Secretary FISH. In reply to a deputation who presented an address, yesterday, asking for closer relations between the Government and the Colonies, Earl GRANVILLE said he was opposed to colonial independence....The necessary measures for the proclaiming of the Duke of GENOA King of Spain soon after Christmas, it is said, have been taken. It is rumored, however, that VICTOR EMMANUEL will oppose the coronation; also, that the Archduke VICTOR, of Austria, has rejected overtures in connection with the Spanish throne. ....Arms believed to have been designed for the Spanish Carlists were seized on Tuesday in Bayonne, France....Secret political societies are said to have been discovered in Moscow and the interior of Russia, preparatory to an outbreak on the 17th of February next.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate yesterday among the resolutions offered was one authorizing the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to pay rewards for the detection of persons murdering, or attempting to murder, officers of the service, and another favoring the Washington Industrial Exposition. The paper containing Senator BROWNLOW's personal explanations regarding political matters in Tennessee was read. Senator CAMERON's resolution to detain the Spanish gunboats was taken up, and the mover spoke at length in its support. Mr. SUMNER opposed it, and after considerable debate the resolution was laid over. Senator MORRILL, of Vermont, addressed the Senate in a long speech upon his bill amending the eight-hour law, making ten hours a day's work, after which the bill in reference to the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court was taken up. A brief Executive Session was held.

In the House Mr. BOOTHMAN offered a resolution, asking for information in regard to the $500,000 paid by Japan for commercial indemnity under its treaty with this country. Mr. HAY brought up the Avondale calamity, and the Committee on Mines and Mining were instructed to investigate the cause of the disaster. Mr. JONES, of Kentucky, moved that suitable arrangements be made for the reception of the remains of the late Mr. PEABODY, giving notice that he should call up the resolution on Monday so as to allow an opportunity for discussion. The Census bill was considered for a time, in Committee of the Whole, and afterward, as amended, reported to the House, which, without disposing of all the amendments, at 4 o'clock adjourned.

GENERAL.

Captain-General DE RODAS has authorized an additional tax on sugars and molasses, at Matanzas, to cover municipal deficiencies there.... The Captain-General of Porto Rico has granted permission to native exiles to return, but foreigners engaged in political disturbances are perpetually banished.

Advices from the Red River Territory represent that the insurgents had placed Governor MCTAVISH under close guard, and warned off an officer of Governor MCDOUGALL's party, under penalty of being shot if seen in the Territory again. They continue to issue rations from the Hudson Bay Company's stores.

A charge of murder is to be made by the St. Louis Coroner against the architect, superintendent and contractors of the building that fell in that city recently, with such fatal effects.

The President yesterday sent to the Senate the nominations of Hon. R. R. HOAR, now Attorney-General of the United States, for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; JASON M. JOHNSON to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Ninth District of New-York, and JAMES A. ALEXANDER to be Assessor for the Second District of New-York.

The Methodist Episcopal State Convention assembled in Boston yesterday, passed resolutions asking for a full report from the Committee who recently investigated the affairs of the Book Concern in New-York, and urging the Sub-Committee to continue the investigation.

The Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue of the Eighth Reading District, BENJAMIN F. MORRIS, was yesterday found guilty of malfeasance in office.

A permanent organization, to be known as the "New-England Shoe and Leather Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association," was formed in Boston yesterday.

The Brazilian Ministry, according to late advices from Rio Janeiro by way of Paris, have resigned, on account of the continuation of the war which they opposed.

The Woman's Suffrage Convention at Worcester, Mass., closed yesterday. A resolution was adopted directing the interrogation of candidates before the next State election, and opposition to them in the event of their failure to pledge themselves to the support of the enfranchisement of women.

The Postmaster-General has received information of the execution by the British postal authorities of the new cheap postal convention with the United States. It will take effect Jan. 1, 1870.

The Uruguayan Government has recalled all the political exiles, except General FLORES.

LOCAL.

In accordance with orders from Albany, General SHALER announces that the Fourth Brigade, National Guard, is to be broken up, and the regiments transferred to the remaining brigades. The Second and Fourth Regiments of Infantry are to be disbanded, and a series of consolidations are to take place in several subordinate commands, notably in the cavalry and artillery branches of the service.

The New-York Hotel property was sold at auction yesterday for $1,050,000. The property was bought in for the heirs of the estate, excepting WM. B. MONGAN, whose title is extinguished by the sale.

The City Mission and Tract Society held its annual meeting yesterday at 3:30 P. M., and elected its officers and directors. Rev. THOMAS DE WITT was chosen President.

The National Convention of Petroleum Refiners adjourned yesterday. The specific gravity standard of merchantable oil was fixed at forty-six degrees. A long debate occurred on a resolution to change the present system of making purchases and sales to weight instead of measurement, but no result was arrived at.

ELISHA KINGSLAND, Chief Engineer of the Metropolitan Fire Department since its organization, yesterday resigned that position in consequence of ill health, caused by the arduous nature of his duties.

RUSH C. HAWKINS has sued GEORGE BLISS, Jr., to recover $45,000 damages for alleged misrepresentation in the sale of the Wyoming Valley Coal and Railroad Company's stock. The cause is now on trial in the Superior Court of this City.

The Society of the Sixth Army Corps met yesterday in this City and formed a permanent organization, with Major-General FRANKLIN as President. The first reunion will be held at Philadelphia on the 9th of April next.

The Custom House authorities are investigating the supposed undervaluation of sugar in the bonded warehouses. Some frauds are suspected, but not among responsible parties.

The Congressional Position of Mocking the Dead.

In our public life a custom prevails which is very little to our credit. It has apparently not been borrowed from any other people, and, so far as we are aware, it has never yet been borrowed from us. It consists, in the first place, of proclaiming war to the knife against any man who happens to diverge, though ever so slightly, from the regular party lines. He may have been an eminent leader of that party, and have rendered it distinguished services in days when enemies were powerful and friends but few. He may have spent a long lifetime in contending for the principles which it is the lot of younger men to embrace only when the hardest part of the battle is over. But should he hesitate or refuse to commit himself to some particular measure of which his judgment disapproves, all his past life counts for nothing. His actions are misrepresented, his motives blackened, his honor assailed. The people are called upon to cast him out, and it becomes dangerous to raise even a voice in his behalf. The mark of Cain is set upon him.

Presently he dies, and another peculiarity of our customs comes into play. We proceed to "do him justice." When it is too late to injure him any further, we magnanimously resolve to tell the truth. If he happens to have been in Congress, his colleagues, whose tongues were lately full of venom and gall, rise in solemn order, one after another, and rehearse carefully-prepared orations in his honor. Each one tries to outdo the rest in praising the man who a few weeks before was bitterly slandered. There is no trace of shame in their countenances. There is no remorse mingled with the mawkish sentimentality of their schoolboy addresses. They act like performers in a show, as if they had been hired to mock the dead with flattery. The howlers at an Irish wake are at least in earnest for the moment. But these "funeral orators" seldom are. If they had spoken while yet the object of their eulogies was alive, it would be possible to respect their candor. But first they hunt a man into his grave, and then hypocritically proclaim their grief at his loss. They defame his life, and call it "reparation" to fling a few artificial flowers on his coffin. Surely, of the two, the incense burnt after death is more offensive than the dirt cast at the living.

Most of us can judge for ourselves what Mr. FESSENDEN would have thought of the speeches made on Tuesday by Senators who had pursued him to the end with implacable enmity and rancour. Can we forget the foul calumnies which were heaped upon him when he declined to go step by step with some who now heap praise upon his memory? He knew how unjust the accusations were, and his accusers knew it too—but the barbed arrows struck, and the poison must have lingered in the wound. A man of high principle and feeling is very sensitive of his honor, and when he is slandered is it supposed that he does not bleed inwardly? Is it imagined that the loud shouts of detraction and malice do not come laden with sorrow to him in his own chamber? Senator SUMNER now tells us that Mr. FESSENDEN was a "man of perfect integrity and austerest virtue,"—that "he was inaccessible to those temptations which in various forms beset the avenues of public life." Senator MORRILL praises his "disinterested devotion to worthy ends and aims." Senator WILLIAMS declares that "he was invariably above suspicion." So runs the chorus of adulation; and it was but yesterday that shameful reproaches were pouring from Senators and partisans on the same man. Is there no conscience remaining in politicians? Has it ceased to be dishonorable to traduce innocent men, and only to crave that they were traduced after their deaths? To plead for justice to the living would be idle. But is it not an indecent spectacle to see men, who aspire to be called "statesmen," pretending to weep over the grave of one whom they willfully and wantonly assailed when his estimate of duty differed from theirs?

The Degradation of the Judiciary and the Responsibility of the Bar.

We published yesterday morning, from the pen of a distinguished lawyer, not exactly a defence of the Bar against the criticisms on its conduct with regard to the Judiciary, which have recently appeared in these columns, but an attempt, and we admit a successful one, to distribute a portion of the blame among the rest of the community. We have no desire to shield either the merchants, or ministers, or newspapers from any share of the responsibility which rightly belongs to them. We know very well that a degraded Bar and corrupt Judges could not exist and thrive without a certain amount of corresponding corruption of public sentiment. The very apathy of the public about the condition of Bench and Bar is a proof of demoralization. Every man is in a measure responsible for the existence of social or political evils, which neither shock, nor grieve, nor alarm him. But, then, the question under discussion is not who is to blame; that is easily answered; we are all to blame. The question is, who is to blame most, and to whom should we look for the first move towards deliverance; and we repeat most emphatically that the answer to these questions is, the Bar. The lawyers are more responsible for the vices of the existing Constitution than anybody else, because they had more to do with framing it, and with forming the public sentiment which adopted it, than anybody else. On all matters connected with legislation, their voice always has been, and is now, more powerful than that of any other body of men. Twenty years ago it was almost all-powerful. They drew the present Constitution, and they have for twenty years watched its working, as nobody else could watch it. They have seen day by day, as no one else saw it, its effect on the character both of Judges and counselors. No layman could possibly see it as they saw it, because no layman is engaged in daily observation of forensic morals and manners. Moreover, not one layman in a thousand has any such understanding of judicial proceedings as to enable him to detect the dishonesty or incompetency of those engaged in conducting them. In other words, no eye but a professional one can know the marks of judicial corruption; and we repeat, that it is part of the implied contract which the lawyer enters into with the country when he takes his diploma, not simply that he will procure for his client the benefit of the existing legal machinery, but that he will see that it is in good order. It is as much his duty to denounce and expose what he knows to be corruption in the Judge, as what he knows to be corruption in a Sheriff. He has no more right to drag his clients year after year before a depraved and dishonest Bench, than before juries which he knows to be packed or bribed. It is his duty to cry out. He is the sentinel of the community in all that relates to its Courts, and as long as he has given us warning, though all may be guilty, he is the most guilty if things go wrong.

Now what have the lawyers done during the last twenty years to let the people of this State know to what their Courts were coming? Nothing except grumble privately at their own dinner tables, or in their inner offices to their private friends. No public, outspoken expression of legal opinion has, so far as we know, ever been uttered. No collective and authoritative criticism of the judicial system has the Bar ever offered to the people. The task has been left wholly to the daily papers, which of course have attempted to perform it under all sorts of disadvantages, and particularly those of ignorance and inexperience. The consequence has been that half their censures have fallen harmless through mere want of what may be called inside information—that is, technical knowledge, knowledge of facts and details. Take the notorious attempt made two or three years ago, to give Judge BARNARD the sole control of the Chamber business of the Supreme Court. That nefarious scheme, if successful, would have placed $30,000,000 of property, and the liberty of nearly every man in New-York, at the mercy of this one Judge. A bill was got through the Legislature for the purpose without a word of remark from the lawyers. Laymen, generally, did not know what the effect of the bill would be, or even what "Chamber business" is. It went to the Governor, and lay in his hands for weeks, without a word of remonstrance being addressed to him by any lawyer, great or small, on the subject, or the smallest appeal to the public, and it was almost through accident that he was made acquainted with its real character, and prevented from signing it. Take again the gross abuse of injunctions which is now the principal instrument of judicial corruption. Not one layman in ten thousand knows what an injunction is, what purposes it may serve or may not serve, and therefore what degree of corruption is indicated by the way in which some Judges now employ it. What lawyer or lawyers of standing and authority have ever opened their mouths to enlighten the public on this subject? Not one, so far as our observation goes.

All this points clearly to the remedy. If it be the supineness, the guilty silence of the lawyers, as officers of the people's Courts, which have brought us to our present pass, it is their renewakened public spirit and activity which must help us back to a better state of things. Their first duty is to let the community know what is wrong. We have not vent the period when general declamation on the part of either Bar or Press would do any good. What we want now as the first step in an uprising, is a solemn and official exposition in a paper signed by the leading lawyers, and all who are not leading who choose to adhere to it, of the nature and extent of the prevailing corruption in the Courts, of its effects on the Bar, on property and morals; and it ought to be fortified and followed by constant criticism of men, measures, suits and processes. This would rouse and fix public attention; and it would take away the principal excuse for the present apathy—the absence of proof or of exact and well-defined affirmations from competent persons.

Our correspondent's account of the pressure brought to bear on lawyers by knavish suitors is, of course, deplorable; but then if he means to say that it is the knaviskness of the suitors which causes the corruption of the Bar, we think he is mistaken. It is the corruption of the Courts which draws knavish suitors into litigation and forces lawyers into base compliances. The rogues of the community naturally go to law when the Courts are debauched; they avoid law when Courts are pure. It is the carcass which brings the flies together. The Judiciary is the salt of every community—the one institution on the efficiency of which the purity of its morals, the keenness of its sense of justice, its reverence for plighted faith, the security of property and the sanctity of marriage, must in the last resort depend. But if the salt have lost its savor, what will become of the body it is intended to preserve? "E.'s" suggestions for reform are excellent. We don't know that we can add anything to them; but we must again proclaim that the Bar must lead the way. It will not be pleasant work, but it is necessary work. They must be blind who do not see that we have reached one of those tremendous crises which cannot be passed through without the sacrifice of much individual comfort and happiness. If it be indeed true that on such an occasion and for such a purpose the Bar of this State can supply no willing victims, it will be the first time in the history of a notable profession that this sad story had to be told of it.

Life Insurance in Congress.

We trust that the reporter or the telegraph has done Mr. GARFIELD injustice in attributing to him the very stupid statements in reference to life insurance, which were yesterday published in connection with his name. There is dense ignorance on the subject, we are aware. Of the many who talk of life insurance, few understand its scientific basis, its methods of working, or the conditions of its success. But the author of the Census bill ought to know that the life insurance companies of the United States do not discard modern vital statistics, and that what are called "profits," for the most part represent an excess of the required premium, which, in one shape or another, is returned to the policy holder,—not net gains of the kind acquired in ordinary trade. If Mr. GARFIELD really knows so little of a matter upon which it is proposed to legislate, we may pardon Mr. WOODWARD for characterizing the life insurance business as "one of the most stupendous frauds ever practiced." There is evidently a wonderful scarcity of knowledge among our lawgivers on a question which vitally affects the well being of society, and the financial position of one of the most important interests in the country.

Even this exhibition of ignorance, however, points a moral which the life insurance companies cannot afford to neglect. Their rates of premium need revision. They make insurance a too costly business. Instead of exacting heavy premiums in order that they may make a display of "profits" returned, they should bring the rate nearer the actual cost of insurance, and the current value of money on this side of the Atlantic. There is room for a little common sense here,—or for a company that shall discard the "profit" delusion, and render life insurance as cheap as it might be, without impairing its safety.

Nor should the allusions of Messrs. GARFIELD and WOODWARD to the costly buildings erected in this City by life companies be passed unnoticed. Their criticisms in this respect reflect a very strong public opinion. We do not propose to discuss its exact reasonableness. We only say that the public view with a certain distrust the expenditure of enormous sums upon elaborate edifices for the accommodation of institutions whose affairs should be regulated with strict and conscientious economy. Neither insurance companies nor savings' banks act wisely in exposing themselves even to the bare suspicion of extravagance in the administration of funds committed to their keeping.

New Movement in Brooklyn.

The new proposition for governing Kings County is of a twofold character, one of its aims being to restore to the civic authorities certain powers wielded by the State, and the other being to restore more directly to the people certain powers now exercised by the civic authorities. The first project is, therefore, to repeal the laws establishing State Commissions for civic Government, while the second project is, in part, to make sundry offices elective which are now conferred by appointment.

Regarded in this light, the new move in Brooklyn is similar to the new suggestion in New-York, namely, to throw upon the people the responsibility of supporting the municipal Rings which now prey upon the people of both cities. Whether this course would not result in really throwing New-York and Brooklyn even more essentially than now under the control of these Rings; whether Tammany and its Brooklyn counterpart would not tighten their grasp upon their respective communities instead of loosening it; whether, in short, the transit would not be simply from the frying-pan to the fire,—is the question for serious consideration. But, at all events, the movement seems to spring from good impulses, and is supported by some men at least, who are fighting hard against civic corruption. If it be a groping in the dark, it is at least aimed toward light; if it gives up the very little self-reliance, which have been thrown around these great cities, it at least throws the latter on their own resources. And we are bound to add that the belief is expressed by many that, if the Democratic Party is forced to assume the sole and final responsibility for the civic conduct of these great cities, the good men of the party will force its managers to give up their plundering schemes, at the risk of breaking up the party—to "assume a virtue though they have it not."

The Brooklyn petition, which we published yesterday, contemplates the overthrow of the Metropolitan Police Board, and the establishment of a new Board of three members for three years, to be so classified that one shall be elected every year at the annual election. Now, as the present Police system has been so efficient, as compared with that of former years, we should regard this as a retrograde movement. However, it is just to add that the present force in this county is to be continued, and so with all hereafter to be appointed, to be removed only for cause.

We might also say the same of the proposition to overturn the Metropolitan Health Commissioners, and to give their powers, as before the year 1866, to the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Brooklyn. The question coming up in all these matters of abolishing the State Commissions is, whether the present system is defective, and whether any new system will work better. In the case of the water, sewerage, fire, paving and election officials, the new proposition seems to be directed toward giving a greater popular influence to their control. Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the new petition is the variety of subjects it embraces, and the different way in which it considers them. However, we presume the petition will have many signatures, as would any other, since, with Brooklyn as with New-York, any change in the present system of misgovernment presents a possibility of being a change for the better.

The Orange and the Green.

This is the old, old story from Ireland. Martial law in Tipperary, which means England's answer to the election of O'DONOVAN ROSSA. Martial law in Londonderry, which is only a rude treatment for an old disorder. The election of ROSSA is the same as that of ROCHEFORT. It is the tu quoque of English and French politics. When revolutions are content with bravado and annoyance, no harm is imminent. ROCHEFORT in the Legislature and ROSSA in Parliament are as apt to injure the Republican cause as aid it. What influence had ANACHARSIS CLOOTS or SMITH O'BRIEN? The martial law in Tipperary seems to be unnecessary; we wish we could say as much for the troubles in Londonderry.

Ireland's greatest enemy is Ireland. Her deepest national feeling is that which finds expression in the Orange and the Green. For centuries these emblems have been tossed about by every breeze of discord and civil war and assassination. Murder, strife, devastation, hatred,—the concentration of every bitter thought and evil deed, have surrounded them. There is something which would be grotesque and amusing if it were not savage in the antipathies they represent. To the wearer of the Green, the Orange recals centuries of wrong—the English invasion, the atrocities of STRONGBOW and CROMWELL—the inhuman "Catholic laws," which oppressed his race for centuries. The Orangeman sees in the Green the sufferings of every Waldensian and Alligenian martyr,—the campaigns of JAMES II., the famine and the siege of Derry,—the Catholics wading knee-deep in Protestant blood—the glorious rescue under WILLIAM on the Boyne. These Irish peasants have much of the simplicity of the Indians. A traveler in the Rocky Mountains will be told that the Indian of the plain and the Indian of the mountain are hereditary enemies. "Well, when did the enmity begin?" No one can tell. All that the Arapahoe and the Ute know is that their fathers fought from time immemorial. So they fight now, and never meet without war. "Why do not the whites explain away this fatal hatred, and teach them the wisdom of peace?" "Simply because their division is our strength. Let them unite and our tenure on these mountains is brief. They keep each other in subjection, and it is for our salvation that they should continue to war." As we deal with the Utes and Arapahoes, the English deal with the followers of the Orange and the Green.

The misfortune of these quarrels is, that humanity is outraged by their endless bitterness. Why should the memories of Derry never be discussed without angry words, and wrath and combat? Why should the Irishman never think of Drogheda and the "crowning mercies" of the Protector without feeling impelled to go forth and shoot the first Saxon that comes in his path? These histories are sad enough, and well would it be for the English and the Irish name if they could be blotted from every human eye; but they represent weakness, ignorance, unworthy laws and criminal rulers. They belong to every race. If we only go back far enough and breathe new life into our early history and traditions, every nation will have the feuds of the Orange and the Green, the Ute and the Arapahoe. In this strange, painful phenomena is the source of the miseries of Ireland. How can we expect nationality, public spirit, freedom, self-government, from a people who are little more than children in their quarrels and friendships; who will go to war about a ballad or a banner? What national pride can we hope from the Orangeman who drinks death, tortures, misery and confusion to his neighbor and kinsman, because generations since a foreign prince defeated an Irish army on Irish soil? How can we look for patriotic Irish sentiment from the Ribbonman, who meets in the cave and forest to curse the memory of CROMWELL—and plan the assassination and robbery of his English neighbor? Nor do these enmities die. In America we have our Orange lodges and Irish associations, and the same bitterness. Here it culminates in social estrangement and disunion, and political sympathy. Law prevents outrage, but it does not prevent self-contempt. Men of other races see these foolish strifes of dead centuries fought over again, under the Orange and the Green, and they mock at presumed Irish nationality, as the dream of poets. "How can Ireland," they say, "ask mankind to believe in its destiny or support its cause, when we see it divided against itself, and its sons serving every flag with valor and every cause with honor but its own. In every country and under every flag—under TURENNE, MARLBOROUGH, LUXEMBOURG, FREDERICK, WASHINGTON, NAPOLEON, WELLINGTON, GRANT—in Austria, Prussia, France, Spain, Italy, England, America—Irish genius and Irish courage have covered with honor the Irish name. This is a race of heroes—it is only on its own soil that we see it as the helpless victim of its own implacable antagonisms."

We trust to see all these dark and hateful traditions buried with the forgotten years from which they came. Irishmen may cut each other's throats for centuries without atoning for one act of CROMWELL, or palliating the defeat at the Boyne. Especially are they out of place in this wide Republic. Let the Irishman when he comes here forget his Orange and his Green, and see only the Red and the White and the Blue. Let him find a new Shannon in the Ohio, a new Liffey in the Mississippi. Let the dead past bury its dead,—especially the horrible legacies of ignorance and religious strife and massacre and civil war. Ireland is despised because she is untrue to herself. She is weak because she is divided. The world pays no heed to her sufferings and entreaties, because the crimes of the foreign oppressor pale beside those of her own contending children, and because no act of injustice by the servants of England's red banner is one half as brutal as the tyranny of the Green to the Orange, or the Orange to the Green.

The Caldwell Case in Canada.

The Montreal telegram, which we published yesterday, regarding the case of RICHARD B. CALDWELL, committed for extradition, told us that Judge COUSSOL had declined to interfere to discharge the prisoner. His ground was that the decision of Judge MONDELET, on Friday last, to dismiss the motion for a writ of habeas corpus is final, so far as he (Judge COUSSOL) is concerned; and he has, therefore, on an application for a similar writ to himself, dismissed the motion for the prisoner's discharge. These functionaries agreed, therefore, that CALDWELL should not slip through the meshes of the law.

CALDWELL, as our readers are aware, is senior partner in the firm of R. B. CALDWELL & Co., who are said to have made something like a quarter of a million out of the drawback frauds, and who accordingly may be supposed to know precisely how the fraud was accomplished. Like others, they fled from justice. RANDALL took "leg bail" for Cuba, FREEZE "French leave" for Europe, MOTT went to California, WELLWOOD and the CALDWELLS to Canada; there was a general scattering of these precious confederates after the fraud was unearthed. WELLWOOD, clerk for CALDWELL, implicated the latter, as did KORN, also clerk. KORN testified that the CALDWELLS got forty per cent. of the booty from the claims, on the following principle:

"The party who produced the revenue certificates received forty per cent. of the money derived from the fraudulent claims; CALDWELL kept forty per cent. for himself; the other twenty per cent. went for expenses."

Of these "expenses" BLATCHFORD and HOWARD, according to the same testimony, had ten per cent. each. Enough had been received by CALDWELL to induce him to suddenly give up business in Pearl-street, and to betake himself to the town of Prescott, (in Ontario Province,) just across the line, where, a few days since, the chief detective of the United States Treasury, armed with a warrant of arrest, issued by a Montreal Court, found him.

The point now involved is an important one, not only in this case, but in all extradition cases. CALDWELL's counsel claimed that the arrest of his client was "irregular." He had been "arrested in Ontario, a sister province, and brought in a mysterious fashion to Montreal." The two applications for habeas corpus to Judge MONDELET and Judge COUSSOL rested on this ground, that a warrant granted by a Quebec Court could not take effect in Ontario. Judge MONDELET, however, held that, under last year's extradition statute, Judge COUSSOL (who issued the warrant) had, though an official of but one province, jurisdiction in extradition cases throughout the Dominion, and that he was not bound by the limits of his own Province of Quebec. Thereupon CALDWELL's counsel petitioned the Queen's Bench at Quebec to grant a writ of habeas corpus, preparatory to an appeal against this decision.

The ball season is likely to be gayer than ever this year. In the first place, the very favorite "Assembly balls" will be renewed at DELMONICO's, where the arrangements will be of the most perfect kind. Numerous "bespeaks" for private dancing parties have also been given in the same quarter. Preparations for the "Charity ball" are being made by several ladies well known in society, and it is intended to keep this gathering much more select than was the case last year. On that occasion a number of persons whose room was deemed, better than their company contrived to gain admittance. Precautions have been taken against a recurrence of that accident. The regular annual balls at the Academy of Music will be more brilliant than usual. Altogether, there is a pleasant prospect for those whom the reporter delight in christening "votaries of Terpsichore."

If we are to have a National Exhibition or "Exposition" at all, it is quite clear that Washington is not the proper place for it. It is not the place, not only by reason of its position, its size (or, rather, want of size) and its lack of proper hotel and other accommodations, but also by reason of its civic dependence. The city is of necessity the satellite or tender to Congress; it was originally designed for Governmental accommodation, and now it is a case of the frog swelling to the ox for it to undertake enterprises of the proposed character. Not only so, but Washington is deficient in that very thing most necessary to success of this sort—namely, accommodation for travelers. The extortions of Washington hotels and hackmen, and of Washington custom and plunderers, is a familiar subject of remark. Undoubtedly it is because business is only brisk at seasons, and because one must "make hay while the sun shines," that this rapacity is tolerated. Nevertheless, that is no reason why we should invite strangers to be fleeced there. Besides, the very fact that Congress must be appealed to in the matter, condemns it. We are glad to see that the Senate District of Columbia Committee have stricken out the sections in the proposed bill which asked for appropriations and for the franking privilege, though they have allowed the proposed "taxation of property" to stand. This last is singular, as an appliance for securing a "National Exposition;" but we think the absence of an appropriation may possibly ruin the whole scheme.

What is the matter with the Police? We should be sorry to condemn the innocent with the guilty, but the reports we are daily publishing undoubtedly tend to throw discredit on the whole force. Yesterday a Sergeant of the Twenty-ninth Precinct was charged with assaulting a private watchman, and with "having conducted himself in a manner unbecoming a gentleman"—from which it appears that a high standard is set up for constables. Another Sergeant stepped forward to defend his associate. The second Sergeant was so drunk that the Commissioner was obliged to order him out of the room. If we cannot have "gentlemen" in the force, it is only reasonable to ask for honest and sober men. Presently it will be necessary to swear in a number of special constables to watch the regular Police.

It is a pity none of the discoveries in social science can come to us without some kind of sophistication. When we were rejoicing over the first use of petroleum we were frequently dismayed by the frequent kerosene explosions; and now when we are looking forward to the new fuel and motive power to be got from it, we are told that as the Chinese adulterate their tea, the well-owners doctor their commodity at the pits, and instead of a genuine crude oil, send out a stuff manufactured with "residuum" and naphtha. As petroleum promises to be such a great agency in the economy of social life, the action of the Oil Refiners' Convention is a very important one. We hope it may have the effect of compelling producers to sell an honest article, and at the same time have an idea that it would be no bad thing to have Government inspectors appointed to test the crude oil at the pits. A commodity with so much service and so much conflagration wraps up in it should not be entirely left to the discretion of producers and traders.

The attempt to check cruelty to animals is one of the most unpleasant tasks any man can undertake, for it is sure to excite opposition, and the objects of the good-natured interference have no means of expressing their gratitude. Men revile and horses are silent. Mr. BERGH ought to be assisted by the Police whenever necessity arises. He not only means well, but it is quite clear that he has succeeded in doing a great deal of good. The other day he remonstrated with a driver who was ill-treating his horses. The ruffian immediately made an attempt to strike him with a piece of iron. A man who would grossly ill-use his horse would stick at nothing, and therefore Mr. BERGH was probably not much surprised at the assault upon him. But there ought to be no hesitation in according him all the protection which the law is able to afford.

We have before spoken of the necessity for Police attendance at ferries, and there is, indeed, some improvement in regard to that subject. But there should be no "let up" in the attendance on the approach of night, and a man should be always stationed at each terminus. It would be still better if an officer or two took frequent trips on the boats, for if an impression that one might be somewhere at hand were current, uniform order would be promoted. The remark is made again apropos by the disgraceful affray on a Williamsburg ferry boat at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. It is, of course, only fair to add that some time ago, the Superintendent said that he had not men enough to devote to this particular service. But the force has since been enlarged; and, besides, is not the number detailed for special service in the interest of individuals somewhat large? The public would like to see a statement on the whole subject.

LOPEZ has, as the Frenchman says of Monsieur Tonson in the play, "come again." He always does come again. He has been "utterly annihilated" ten or twelve times; he has been a "homeless and hopeless fugitive" five or six times; the cities of Buenos Ayres and Rio Janeiro have been illuminated in honor of the "close of the war," until candles are at a premium; LOPEZ has lost "all his cannon" once a month on an average; and was, after all, as were the Allies, "storming and capturing" Curuguaty, a town they already took once before last October. "At the last accounts," say the Lisbon tidings, "the Allies were marching on the last outpost of President LOPEZ." But how comes it that a hopeless fugitive has outposts? These Allies are always marching against the last outpost of LOPEZ, like children marching to the foot of a rainbow. Whenever the Allies take a "last outpost," (as it must be confessed, they always do,) it proves to be a last but one. It is worse than the theatric announcements of "last appearance," "positively last appearance," "most positively and absolutely last appearance as the theatre is engaged;" "reengagement of the brilliant actor," "farewell performances," and so on in ever-recurring cycles.

If we may judge from the way in which the session of Congress has opened, we should be forced to the conclusion that we are destined to witness a repetition of an old and tiresome farce. There have already been prolonged discussions ending in nothing, mingled with the usual proportion of personalities of which everybody but Congressmen is heartily ashamed and weary. We are obliged to admit that nothing more barren in dreary can be offered to the public than the ordinary reports of Congressional debates. They are not often instructive, and no one can pretend that they are amusing. Matters will mend, it is to be hoped, after Christmas, but garrulous Senators and Representatives must try to conquer their passion for hearing their own voices before any practical work can be done. There are some men who will speak on every subject, and the natural consequence is that it is never worth while to listen to them. Unless members of Congress wish to cause their proceedings to be altogether neglected by the public, they will try to suppress the "horse" and encourage the business men. There is a great danger at present of Congressional reports being carefully "skipped" by the large body of the public.

Personal.

Hon. L. M. LAWSON, President St. Louis and St. Joseph Railroad Company, and Colonel A. G. GOWEN, Engineer-in-Chief of the same road, are stopping at the St. James Hotel.

GENERAL TELEGRAMS.

EUROPE

The British Press on the Reciprocity Treaty—The British Government and the Colonies.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The Times, in an article on the Canadian Reciprocity Treaty, says its rejection by the United States Senate relieved England of an awkward question. If free trade existed between Canada and the Union, the Canadian tariff would discriminate against direct trade between the Union and England; Canada would recognize a closer commercial interest with the United States than with England, and political is sure to follow commercial estrangement. The Morning Telegraph, (Liberal journal,) on the same subject, predicts some modification of the policy of Congress toward the Dominion of Canada, through the influence of Secretary Fish, who is a believer in free trade.....A deputation waited upon Earl GRANVILLE to-day, and presented an address asking for closer relations between the British Colonies and the Home Government. Earl GRANVILLE replied, approving their request, and declaring that he was opposed to colonial independence.....KOOPMANSCHAP, the Chinese merchant of San Francisco, is negotiating with the North German Lloyds Steamship Company for the transportation of coolies from Chinese ports, by way of the Suez Canal, to New-Orleans.... The Times to-day has an editorial on the cotton supply question. While admitting the improved quantity, quality and price of the India cotton, it does not consider possible the displacement of the American descriptions.

The Spanish Monarchy—Carlist Disturbances—A Political Conspiracy in Russia.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Advices from Madrid represent that the question of the sovereignty is rapidly approaching a definite and satisfactory solution. It is asserted that all the necessary measures have been taken to proclaim the Duke of GENOA King of Spain, and that the proclamation will be made soon after Christmas. The Carlist insurrectionists continue quite active on the French border. Yesterday several cases of arms, supposed to belong to them, were seized at Bayonne and other places in that neighborhood, by the French authorities.

MADRID, Dec. 15.—The Official Gazette publishes the decree restoring the constitutional guarantees which were suspended during the Republican insurrection. The orders for the holding of elections to fill twenty-nine vacant seats in the Cortes are promulgated. It is rumored that the King of Italy recently told the Spanish Ambassador at Florence that he should refuse his consent to the coronation of the Duke of GENOA. It is also reported that Archduke VICTOR, brother of the Emperor of Austria, has refused overtures made to him by Spain in connection with the throne.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—News has been received from St. Petersburg that secret political societies have been discovered at Moscow and in the interior provinces of European Russia, and that they were plotting an insurrection to take place on the 17th of February, the anniversary of the emancipation of the serfs.

SOUTH AMERICA

Resignation of the Brazilian Cabinet—Uruguayan Exiles Recalled.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Still later dates have been received from Rio Janeiro. The Brazilian Ministry having unanecessarily opposed the continuation of the war against Paraguay, had tendered their resignations, which had been accepted.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Intelligence has been received from Montevideo that the Uruguayan Government has recalled all the political exiles except General FLORES.

THE WEST INDIES.

A New Sugar Tax in Cuba—Another Arrival of Spanish Soldiers—Porto Ricans Exiles Allowed to Return.

HAVANA, Dec. 15.—Captain-General DE RODAS has authorized the Council of Matanzas to impose an additional tax on sugars and molasses, for the purpose of raising the revenue sufficient to cover the municipal deficiency. The steamship Eagle, from New-York, arrived at this port this morning. The steamship Dionaile, arrived to-day from New-Orleans. Another detachment of troops arrived to-day from Spain.... Late intelligence from Porto Rico is to the effect that the Captain-General of that island had granted a permission to return to the natives of the island who were compromised in the revolution of last year, but declares that all foreigners implicated in the movement are to remain banished.

CANADA.

The Red River Insurrection—Governor McTavish Under Close Guard.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 15.—A special dispatch to the Tribune from St. Paul, of this date, says: "Late intelligence from Red River is to the effect that the rebels had placed Governor McTAVISH under a close guard on account of his recent proclamation advising them to lay down their arms and submit to the Government. Captain CAMPBELL, of McDOUGALL's party, attempted to enter Fort Garry, but was met at the gate by the sentinels, who forced him back upon American soil. Upon pain of being shot, he has been forbidden to enter the lines of the insurgents. An account says that the rebels continue to issue rations from the Hudson's Bay Company's goods with regularity that is making great inroads upon the provisions of the Company."

TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAY.

Meeting of the Committee at Saratoga—New-Hampshire and Vermont Active—Routes Proposed Through New-York.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 15.—Messrs. GILBERT, MOLLISON and CHENEY AMES, of Oswego, R. T. HOUGH, Lewis County, G. I. POST, Cayuga, and Chas. E. Cross, of Pulaski, the Committee appointed at the Oswego Convention, arrived this evening and organized a meeting.

Mr. MOLLISON gave an account of the October meeting in Oswego, and stated the object was to build a more direct route to the sea.

Mr. JOHN A. POOR, of Portland, spoke of that city, which he said had the best harbor on the Atlantic coast, and the British ship Monarch, with the running of Geo. PEABODY, had been ordered there. He did not object to the people of the Empire State taking pride in New-York, but New-England wanted 2,000,000 barrels of flour per annum, and better facilities for getting it. From Portland to Chicago by the Grand Trunk Railway was 1,000 miles, and the new direct route, now contemplated, is to be only 900 miles. We should use the land carriage wherever it could be cheaper than water. We must build a railroad across New-England, and make a more direct and cheaper route. Canada is now building a direct route on the Northern line. He gave a description of the harbor and facilities for it. He said, Governor WASHBURN, of Vermont, sent word to-day that his town of only 4,000 inhabitants had undertaken to build fourteen miles of this line, to Woodstock. Cheers had been heard from. They could not afford to invest their money; but they could pledge $10,000 in freight. Portland would handle the freight and tranship it to Europe at less cost than New-York.

O. F. FOWLER, of Danbury, N. H., said: We have a charter and a pledge that a line through New-Hampshire shall be built. No grade over fifty feet per mile is required in his State. Nature has left a place for this air line through New-Hampshire.

JOHN CAIN, editor of the Rutland Courier, and President of the Rutland and Woodstock Railroad, said Rutland has bonded the town for $600,000 to aid the line, and other towns in Vermont are doing the same.

A. B. FARLIN, of Warrensburg, spoke for a route through Northern New-York, from Fort Ann to Warrensburg, through the passes and wilderness to Boonville, an objective point toward Oswego, 192 miles long.

J. MCKEEBON, of Glens' Falls, presented the claims of two other routes, and E. C. BUTLER, of Luzerne, spoke in favor of still another route from Fort Ann. General G. S. BATCHELDER, of Saratoga, argued in favor of the passing through the towns of Milton and Galaway, Saratoga County, and Northville, in Fulton County, striking Sacandaga Valley there. This would avoid the chain of mountains between Fort Ann and Sacandaga Valley. This line would pass through a rich and well populated country instead of the sparsely-settled country further north. From Saratoga to Northville only requires twenty-eight miles of road before reaching the Wilderness.

Hon. CHENEY AMES said the hour was growing late, and asked an adjournment till to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M. The meeting adjourned accordingly.

THE WEST.

A Charge of Murder Against the Architect and Builders of the Fallen Building in St. Louis—Pardoned for the President.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—The Coroner has prepared a charge of murder in the fourth degree against George S. BARNETT, architect and superintendent; SAMUEL M. ROSS, assistant superintendent, and POLK, STEWARTSON and [illegible] FARRELL, contractors for the stone work of the building on the corner of Fifth and Olive streets, which fell last November, and caused the death of a number of persons and the maiming of several others. President GRANT has pardoned ANNA COFFINS, under sentence to one year's imprisonment in the Penitentiary for uttering counterfeit money, on the ground that she was the dupe of her husband. She has been in prison about one month.

The Army of the Cumberland—Meeting of the Society.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 15.—The meeting of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland convened at the Academy of Music at 2 o'clock this afternoon. General KIMBALL, Chairman of the Executive Committee, called the meeting to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. R. P. INGERSOLL. In the absence of General TRUESLER, the welcome address was made by General KIMBALL. General SHERIDAN was elected President of the Convention. Remarks were made by Generals Sheridan, Rosecrans, Wood, Schofield and Negley. The Treasurer's report shows the balance in the Treasury, after paying all expenses for the year, of $6,400. Letters from Generals THOMAS, GARFIELD and others, regretting their not being able to be at the reunion, were read. A Committee was appointed to report a plan for the investment of the funds of the Society, and also to suggest means for the better organization of the funds. Committees were also appointed to select the next place of meeting, to provide for the next annual address and nominate officers for the ensuing year, with instructions to report at the first session to-morrow. A resolution changing the anniversary to the 19th of September was referred to a Committee. The Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow. General NEGLEY will deliver the annual address to-morrow afternoon.

THE INDIANS.

The Military View of the Causes of Indian Wars—White Murderers Unpunished—Important Suggestions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—Major-General ORD, under date of Nov. 1, Headquarters Department of California, has sent a large mass of papers to General SHERMAN, saying such cases as the within are not unfrequent:

"A harmless Piute Indian boy was murdered in cold blood by a worthless vagabond, a few rods from Camp McDermit, last Sunday. The murderer escaped. Other similar murders of Indians have occurred in Arizona since I took command of this Department, but the military authorities have no control over the civil magistrates. The State, or Territorial authorities in those Indian districts, are either powerless or indifferent to the killing of Indians by the whites, so that the murderers almost invariably escape, but if an Indian shoots a white man, it is immediately followed by the white people of the district that the whole tribe shall be held responsible and war declared against them. If there is legislation by Congress which meet the difficulty, it would act as a preventive if, in such cases, the murderer could be arrested by the military, and held, or turned over, for trial, to the United States Courts, and would give the Indians some little show of equal justice."

Major-General THOMAS, in his endorsement of this letter, says:

"I can see no better method than to extend civil authority over the Indians now within the settlements, and enable them to appear as witnesses in all cases where one or more of them are killed by the white or white people. The whole affair, in a fair instance of the cause of the Indian troubles in the military division, and still white murderers and robbers of Indians are permitted, a large force of troops will be necessary to protect peaceful White inhabitants in the thinly settled regions of the country from Indian avengers. I was informed by Gen. Canby that the number of Indians the Piutes reported to by Gen. Ord, and knew the circumstances produced in the peaceful camp of the Piutes by the wilful, unprovoked and unpunished murder of one of their number."

General SHERMAN makes the following indorsement:

"This case illustrates the origin of most of the Indian wars on our frontier. A citizen may murder an Indian with impunity; but if the Indian retaliates, war results, and the United States must bear the expense."

The Secretary of War concurs in the suggestions of these officers, and recommends additional legislation in the premises.

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN.

Action of the Massachusetts Methodist Episcopal State Convention—A Full Report Demanded.

BOSTON, Dec. 15.—The Methodist Episcopal State Convention, at its session to-day, adopted the following:

Whereas, Painful and alarming rumors have spread far and wide of defalcations in the management of our Book Concern in New-York; and whereas the late report of the Book Committee concerning the same while showing that these rumors are not wholly groundless, has manifestly imperfect and unsatisfactory form; and

Resolved, That we respectfully call upon the said Book Committee for a full report of such facts within their knowledge as are necessary to a clear understanding of the extent to which this great interest of the Church has been managed.

Resolved, That we urgently request the Sub-Committee of Investigation to seriously pursue their labor to the extent necessary to a full understanding of the affairs of the Concern.

Resolved, That regarding the Bible as the only sufficient rule of Christian faith and the palladium of our liberties, we therefore oppose all attempts to exclude from our public schools, or to break down its authority, as a blow at the foundation of republicanism.

Resolutions strongly indorsing a prohibitory liquor law also passed the Convention.

POLITICAL.

The Kentucky Senatorship—Manchester, N. H., Election.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 15.—On the second ballot STEVENSON received 85 votes; MCCREERY, 54; GOLLADAY, 15; STANLEY, 10; BECK, 1. The joint session then adjourned until to-morrow. It is claimed at Frankfort that if the Senatorial race is narrowed between MCCREERY and STEVENSON, MCCREERY will be supported by a majority of those voting for GOLLADAY. In the second ballot to-morrow STEVENSON's friends count upon the Republican vote cast for FINLEY, upon the strength of the report that STEVENSON favors negro testimony.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 15.—JAMES A. WESTON, Citizens' candidate, was elected Mayor of this city yesterday, by 147 majority, over ISAAC W. SMITH, the present incumbent.

Miscellaneous Telegrams.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 15.—GEORGE P. BARLOW, of Florida, was found dead in bed at the Terre Haute House this morning, having committed suicide by taking laudanum. He left the following letter:

DEAR FATHER: Tell my younger brother to beware of the dissipated course which has caused my death.

Yours ever. (Signed) GEORGE.

Have not buried lest my mother.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15.—The jury in the case of BENJ. F. MOREY, charged with malfeasance in office while Assistant Assessor of the Eighth Revenue District, returned a verdict of guilty in the United States District Court.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15.—This morning the Express detected J. W. LAMB for passing counterfeit. On his person they found $20 in genuine money and $60 in counterfeit, together with a circular letter from WOGAN & Co., No. 72 Nassau-st., New-York, informing him that they had sold counterfeit money so well executed as to deceive the Government Treasury experts, at low rates.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 15.—One hundred thousand acres of the Agricultural College Land scrip, issued by New-York, was to-day sold for $87,000, to G. F. LEWIS, of Cleveland, Ohio.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 15.—The jailer at Carrollton, Ky., while incarcerating a murderer named ANDREW MCDIARMITT, was knocked down by him and locked in a cell. MCDIARMITT escaped, but was recaptured. Twelve other prisoners availed of a portion of the jail roof and made a successful escape.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 15.—JOHN S. CARLILE, member of Congress from this district during the eight years preceding the war, died to-day. He served on the Committee on the Judiciary... The Grand Lodge of Masons in session here has resolved to sustain the Grand Lodge of Louisiana in its contest with the Grand Orient of France.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Dec. 15.—SAMUEL NASHEWSIN, an English preacher at Centreville, was convicted this evening of murder in the first degree for killing his infant child. His wife MARY was acquitted. Both had been in this country but a few months. His counsel has moved for a new trial.

More Suits Against the Erie Railway Company.

The merchants of Paterson having determined to test the legality of the increase by the Erie Railway Company, of charges for transportation of freight under "terminal express," have placed in the hands of their counsel, General THOS. H. HOBART, about three hundred bills, upon each of which an action will be commenced to recover a penalty of $100 for each extortion. It is contended that under the provisions of the Paterson and Ramapo Railroad charter, under which the Erie Company [illegible] the transportation of material purchased in the State of New-Jersey, is to be free from all tolls and charges, when [illegible] is conducted or damaged by the [illegible] use.

AMUSEMENTS.

"L'ELISIRE D'AMORE" AT THE ACADEMY.

No opera in which Signor ROSCONI has no great a part as Dr. Dulcamara can be properly a failure, but the performance of "L'Elisire d'Amore" last night required all the exertions of that capital buffo to redeem it from falling flat, even with an audience more than inclined to be pleased. Most of the work of the season has been so deserving and, withal, so fortunate, that it would be almost miraculous were there not a few blunders or two behind the class; and it is with no authority, being moved any of the artists concerned that we feel compelled to say that this was not one of the golden triumphs of the series. Mlle. FAUSTINA CARESSA has a mezzo-soprano voice of not unpleasing quality and of very creditable cultivation, but she is neither interesting as an actress nor—so far as a single hearing justifies an opinion—remarkable as a singer. Her execution is at times extremely good, and her artistic intention without flaw; but the arabesque, the freshness, the charm of Adina are at present wanting in her impersonation, and we fear are unlikely to be forthcoming in the future. Mlle. CARESSA will be more successful, we imagine, in the concert room than on the stage. It is, however, not altogether fair to judge an artist from a single character, and we shall be glad of any opportunity that may enable us to modify our opinion, and to speak as warmly of this lady as we should desire. Signor ROSCONI acted Dr. Dulcamara with all his old spirit, and made his scenes pass off to an accompaniment of tumultuous laughter. Signor BERNARD was smooth and acceptable in Nemorino, and Signor CELESTI was much the reverse in Sergeant Belcore. To-morrow is advertised as the last night of the season. "Il Bello in Maschera" in the opera, and Signor LEFRANC and Mme. BRIOL the chief artists. On Saturday "Pipelle" will be sung, with Mlle KELLOGG and ROSCONI for the concluding matinée, and in the following week the company proceed on a short tour designed to take in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. They return to New-York in February.

THE FRENCH PLAYERS.

The French artists whose performances at the New-York Theatre have already had reference, continue to appear there nightly. They sing this evening, ADOLPHE ADAMS' delightful though rather antiquated opera of "Le Sourd," and, thanks especially to the efforts of M. GIRERDEUX, and of Mme. GUERRIN, their interpretation of it leaves little room for fault-finding. "Le Sourd" is to be repeated, in view of the success of the first representation, until Saturday evening, when the bill will be changed, and the modern standard comedy of "Par Droit de Conquête" will be added.

THE CARDIFF GIANT.

The statue which is claimed by its owners to be the veritable "Stone Man" will be placed on public exhibition at Apollo Hall, on Monday, Dec. 20. From the information given us we do not question but that this is, as asserted, the first Giant in the field; that is say, the one that was discovered on the 16th of October last, on the farm of Mr. W. C. NEWELL, in Onondaga County, N. Y. Whether this originality or priority of production involves any essential superiority we do not at present undertake to say. If there is such a thing as copyright in a hoax, perhaps it has. In any case there has been so much talk about the matter that there can be little doubt the levees of the Simon pure man of Cardiff will be fashionably and numerously attended.

MORE FAILURES.

Several Large Firms Suspended—The Wall in Gold the Cause.

The present condition of the money market has been productive of many failures, especially among large importers, to many of whom the sudden fall of gold has brought almost utter ruin. Among the suspensions announced yesterday was that of probably the largest importers of foreign carpets in this country, always excepting Mr. A. T. STEWART. This firm suspended on Monday, and yesterday made an assignment for the benefit of the creditors to Hon. ALBERT P. EDGERTON, of Fort Wayne, Ind., a gentleman of great wealth and unimpeachable integrity. Messrs. EDGERTON & Co. were compelled, when gold was in the region of 145, to take out of bond a large quantity of foreign carpetings, paying the duties with gold purchased at a high premium. Gold soon commenced its downward career, and business being all but stagnant, the goods remained in the firm's warehouse, depreciating in value day by day. The head of the firm was influenced to a great extent in his purchases of gold by the advice and example of another large dealer, (in a different line of business, however,) who was disposed, in the parlance of "the street," to be "bullish." This gentleman was a man of mark in the financial world, and followed his bent so far that he also failed. The gold which Mr. EDGERTON paid for duties he bought at the current rates, expecting that the premium would advance, instead of borrowing, as is frequently done by importers. Had he borrowed his gold, the premium would have fallen before the debts were due, and suspension might have been avoided. Mr. EDGERTON's partner is A. P. EDGERTON, Jr., the son of the assignee, and the firm's place of business is on the corner of Broadway and Leonard-street. It would seem that the house in which the firm was located is an ill-fated one, since no less than four failures or suspensions have occurred within it. E. D. DERBY & Co., dry goods merchants, who failed about a year ago, were its occupants, as were BETTS, NICHOLS & Co., saddlers, who failed nearly two years ago. Previous to the occupancy of the latter parties a firm whose name cannot be recalled rented the store, and inaugurated the list of disagreeable events which ended with the suspension of L. EDGERTON & Co.

Mr. LYCURGUS EDGERTON, the senior member, entered the dry goods trade in 1836, as a junior in the large house of JOHN STEWARD & Co. The other partners were JOHN P. YELVERTON, (afterward President of the Bank of North America,) who had died long ago, and ADDISON G. JEROME, now a well-known operator. The last-named gentleman retired from the firm in 1846, and Messrs. STEWARD & EDGERTON carried on the business for a year, when Mr. STEWARD retired immensely wealthy. The firm then became L. EDGERTON, ROGERS & HAYNES, and was located at Nos. 71 and 73 Worth-street. Its business prospered finely until the breaking out of the war, when, through the unwillingness or inability of the Southern merchants to pay, it lost $250,000. Notwithstanding this heavy loss the firm met every dollar of its indebtedness and again obtained its name to that borne at the present time. With no capital thus impaired, Mr. EDGERTON again started in business, this time making a specialty of imported carpets, meeting with great success during the war and for a time after it.

Mr. EDGERTON is spoken of in commercial circles as a man of unblemishing probity, and of great tact and energy in all his undertakings. The suspension of the firm is matter of deep regret to all who have had dealings with them, and on all sides it is hoped that their embarrassments may be only temporary. Hon. A. P. EDGERTON, the brother of the senior of the firm, and father of the junior, is an assignee to whom the creditors may look with full confidence for the protection of their interests. He is a long prominent man in Indiana—having been run for Lieutenant-Governor on the Hendricks ticket and defeated by only 700 votes—and was for many years associated in business with Hon. HUGH MCCULLOCH, late Secretary of the Treasury. Messrs. EDGERTON & Co. hope to be able to meet all their liabilities. An inventory of stock is now being taken, and besides that in their store, the firm have a large amount of goods which have not been taken out of bond.

RICHARD PATRICK & CO.

The failure of this firm was also announced yesterday, and, as it ranks among the best in the City in the hardware trade, the news created both surprise and alarm. The cause of the failure cannot be definitely stated, although it is said that it arose from some delay in the transmission of remittances from the San Francisco house, which is a connection of the firm. Mr. RICHARD PATRICK, the senior member, commenced his career as a clerk in EZRATUS CORNING, of Albany, whom he left in 1836 to establish for himself on Pearl-street, in this City, under the firm name of RICHARD PATRICK & Co. He soon formed a profitable connection with JOSEPH FARRELL, & Sons, of Wolverhampton, England, and in about fifteen years retired with a fortune estimated to be at least $100,000. He afterward, however, he retrieved his fortune, establishing his firm in New-York as RICHARD PATRICK & Co., and that in San Francisco—for on the Pacific coast he saw a fine opportunity for success in his business. As Mr. ALVORD & Co. Mr. ALVORD retired with great wealth two years ago, and the firms on both sides of the continent became identical in name. The business was a very profitable one, and Mr. PATRICK was reputed to be immensely wealthy, even up to the day of his suspension. It may be judged then, that his failure was a [illegible]

W. B. WHEDBEE.

On the Stock Exchange yesterday a letter from Mr. W. B. WHEDBEE was read, in which he announced his inability to meet his engagements. Mr. WHEDBEE was for some years associated with the Sub-Treasury, and his career there, as well as his subsequent operations on the street, indicated ability. He agrees to be able to liquidate all claims within a short time.

Gray and Fraser, the Wall-street Bankers—No Trace of Them.

No traces of the whereabouts of Wm. H. GRAY and B. H. FRASER, who forged bonds, borrowed money on them and decamped, have yet been found. In another column will be found the advertisement of WEBSTER & CO., and others, who offer the following reward for their apprehension: Ten per cent upon the valuation of whatever money, bonds or securities may be recovered from said parties. It has been found that sixteen certificates of $1,000 each, State Bounty Loan Bonds of 1871, originally issued to C. W. WOOLSEY, who subsequently obtained a duplicate because the original had been stolen, and been raised to $1,000 each, making a loss of the bankers who had purchased as genuine of $160,000. Also, that five certificates of the same class, issued to T. B. PRATT, of $1,000 each, were raised to $10,000 each, making a loss to those who took them in as collateral of $45,000. The aggregate loss to money brokers so far as ascertained is $205,000.

The New American Clipper Ship Resolute.

The fine clipper ship Resolute, which will arrive in this port to-day from Mystic, Conn., having been towed thither by the Atlantic Submarine Wrecking Company's steamer Philip, was built by MASSON, FIRTH & CO. in Mystic, Conn., for Captain E. P. WILSON, her commander, C. F. WILLIAMS, Captain STONE, of Stonington, and J. D. FIRTH & Co., of New-York. She is 180 feet in length, thirty-five feet beam and twenty-three deep. Her registered tonnage is 700 and she is wire rigged. Her total cost amounts to something like $80,000. She will immediately commence to take on board a general cargo for San Francisco, for which port she will sail in the beginning of February, 1870. She sails in GEORGE D. SUTTON'S California line, and follows the Westerling, which sails in January. Her crew, all told, will number twenty men fore and aft.

FOR 1870.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

An unusual number of persons collected at the Exchange yesterday, but the sales were chiefly by order of the Supreme Court. That which attracted most notice was the disposal of the New-York Hotel property by E. H. LUDLOW & Co., under the direction of R. RANDOLPH ROBINSON, referee. This property extends 184.2 feet on Broadway, 200 feet on Waverley-place, 61.2 feet on Mercer-street, and 184.2 feet on Washington-place, occupying the whole block with the exception of the estate of Mrs. JONES, on the southwest corner, 62 feet by 61.8. Prior to 1845 this land was mostly occupied by residences, and nearly one-half of it was sold for less than $50,000 at that time. Subsequent to that period it came into the hands of HICKSON W. FIELD and MATTHEW MORGAN, and the hotel was erected upon it. On the death of Mr. MORGAN his share of the property was bequeathed to his descendants and relatives, and the title has remained in them and their heirs without partition until the present proceedings were instituted. This suit was commenced by a mortgage lien by EDWARD MORGAN and CHARLES MORGAN against the other heirs, and JOHN JAY was appointed receiver pending the suit. An order was finally made, on the 2d of October, by Judge CLERKE, directing a sale of the whole property at public auction. At the sale yesterday a large crowd gathered around the chair of LUDLOW & Co., but no very remarkable bids were made, and the property was bought by Mr. FIELD, who is part of the heirs of Mr. MORGAN. HICKSON W. FIELD still owns one-half, LUCINDA MORGAN three-twentieths, EDWARD MORGAN one-twentieth, CHARLES MORGAN one-twentieth, HENRY MORGAN one-twentieth, and the rest is held by CHARLES and LUCINDA MORGAN, as trustees for GEO. MORGAN, LUCINDA M. ELY, SOPHIA ROBBINS and MATTHEW MORGAN, Jr. The sum at which it was bid off was $1,000,000, the owners having been offered $1,250,000 at private sale. The hotel proper was leased by Mr. JAY to HEYMANN & BROOKWAY for one year, taking Heymann, for the sum of $97,000, and the stores bring in upward of $40,000 more. The previous leases since the opening of the house have been Captain COMSTOCK, J. R. MUNROE and HIRAM CRANSTON.

JAMES M. MILLER sold the house and lot No. 20 Henry-street for $10,025, under direction of D. F. DEGRAHAM, Jr., referee. Six lots on One Hundred and Fortieth-street and Broadway were also sold by MILLER. Two of these, (on One Hundred and Fortieth-street,) on one of which is a dwelling, brought $5,600 each. The corner lot, 50.4 feet on One Hundred and Fortieth-street, by 98.10½ on Broadway, sold for $2,700, and the three lots north of the same brought $2,250 each. W. H. HAYNOR sold, for ISRAEL FREEMAN, to R. A. WEITHAUS, at private sale, three lots on the northeast corner of Seventy-third-street and Tenth-avenue, 75.8x100 for $7,000. These lots will front diagonally on the Grand Boulevard, in the gore at the junction of Tenth-avenue and that thoroughfare is thrown open by the Central Park Commissioners. They sold in 1860, when Mr. FREEMAN bought them, for $2,600.

FINANCIAL.

EIGHT PER CENT. GOLD
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
OF THE ISSUE OF
$1,500,000
BY THE
St. Joseph and Denver City R. R. Co.

In denominations of $1,000 and $500, bearing Eight per Cent. per annum Interest, payable in Gold on the 16th of February and August, in each year, in New-York, London, or Frankfort-on-the-Main, at the holder's option, free of United States taxes. The interest for six months on $1,000 Bond is payable as follows:

In New-York . . . . . $40 Gold.
In London . . . . . £8 4s. 4d.
In Frankfort-on-the-Main 100 Florins

On a $500 Bond one-half these amounts respectively.

These Bonds have thirty years to run from Aug. 16, 1869, payable at maturity in Gold, in the City of New-York. Are Coupon Bonds, but can be registered, or converted into Registered Bonds.

They are secured by a first and only mortgage on 111 miles of the Company's road, from St. Joseph, Mo., to Marysville, Kansas, known as the Eastern Division of the Company's main line, which runs from St. Joseph to Fort Kearney, on the Union Pacific Road, including the Company's equipments, rolling stock, now owned or hereafter possessed, rights of way, franchises, real estate, and personal property in Doniphan, Brown, Nemaha and Marshall Counties, Kansas, now owned or which the Company may acquire by reason of the extension of their line to the City of Marysville.

This mortgage is executed to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company as Trustee. At the same time the whole issue of $1,500,000 bonds have been entrusted by the Railroad Company, placed in the custody of the Trustees, who have absolute possession, and can only issue them or their proceeds in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage Deed, which is upon a completed road, and then only at the rate of $12,000 per mile.

Bonds to be valid must be countersigned by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.

The rate per mile of a completed road, which is mortgaged to secure these bonds at their par value, is $13,500, while the actual cost of construction and equipment is more than double this amount.

This line is mainly the extension of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, with its connections North and East, and the St. Louis and St. Joseph Railroad, with its connections South and East, both lines converging at St. Joseph, and connecting at once with the St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad, running West through Eastern Kansas into the heart of Nebraska, where it connects with the Union Pacific Railroad at the City of Fort Kearney, making the shortest route known to California and the Pacific States.

The Company's Capital Stock is $10,000,000, to which nearly $2,000,000 is subscribed and paid up by local subscriptions, which amount has been and is being expended on the road. The Company have 1,000,000 acres of superior lands, immediately adjoining the line, which was a grant from the United States Government, the alternate sections of which are selling for $2.50 per acre cash. At this low price, the Company have an asset of value in

Lands	$4,000,000
First Mortgage Bonds . .	1,500,000
Capital Stock	10,000,000
Total Resources . . .	$15,500,000
Total Length of Road .	271 Miles

while the only debt against the Company in this form of First Mortgage Bonds, amounting to $1,500,000, all that can be issued.

A large portion of the road West from St. Joseph is now in successful operation, showing earnings, per mile, sufficient to meet the interest liabilities on this loan.

A Branch Company is building a line from this road to the Kansas Pacific Road, thereby giving a direct route to Denver City.

We are authorized to offer these 8 per cent. First Mortgage Bonds at 87½ and accrued interest in currency, with the reserved right to advance the price without notice. Pamphlets, maps and information furnished on application.

Bonds sent and packages received free of express charges, and available securities converted without commission to parties investing in these Bonds.

They are $1,000 Bonds, issued upon a railroad nearly one-half completed, traversing a country unsurpassed by any in the first centralia of a large and profitable business.

They are secured by First Mortgage on 140 miles of the first-class road, its equipment and all present and future acquired property of the Company.

They bear a high rate of interest for a long period of time—SEVEN PER CENT. gold for forty years—and a small ratio to the cash value of the realty upon which they are issued.

They stand in fourth liability of the Company of only $1,325 per mile, or less than one-third that of some great roads of the country whose bonds have ranked very high.

They are sold only on the completed portion of the road, at the rate of $14,000 per mile. These facts, add to the safeguards thrown around the Bonds, (having the UNION TRUST COMPANY, of New-York, as their Official Registrar and Transfer Agent,) combine to render these UNEQUALED SECURITIES, and really the most desirable in the market for investment.

The value of the additional One per Cent. for thirty years, at compound interest, would be $911 25, and in forty years $1,866 45 more than that of Government Gives running the same length of time.

Price 94 present, 95 and accrued interest from Oct. 1.

Pamphlets, with maps and details, and the Bonds, may be had directly of us, or of our Agents.

Having personally examined this entire line of road, finished and projected, as well as the country through which it runs, we offer these Bonds with every confidence in their full worth and usefulness.

WE OFFER FOR SALE, UPON favorable terms, CITY OF LOUISVILLE SEVEN PER CENT. BONDS, having twenty years to run, interest payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October, at the

in this City.

A special tax has been levied to meet the interest on these bonds, and the sinking fund of the city amounts to about $250,000 per annum.

The City of Louisville has always met its financial obligations promptly and regularly. Its present revenue from taxation alone is upward of $1,800,000. With its rapidly growing wealth and, as yet, the conservative policy which has always marked the management of its finances, these bonds constitute one of the safest and most desirable investments now offered in this market.

The bonds can be registered at the treasurer agency, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, New-York, at the option of the holder.

All further particulars can be had on application at our office.

CHICKERING & SONS,

MANUFACTURERS OF

GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT PIANOFORTES.

ESTABLISHED 1823.

Our reputation as the FIRST MANUFACTURERS in this COUNTRY and EUROPE being fully established, and the UNQUALIFIED SUPERIORITY of our INSTRUMENTS being ACKNOWLEDGED by the VOLUNTARY TESTIMONY of the LEADING ARTISTS in the WORLD, we beg to assure the public that the HIGH STANDARD of QUALITY which has given to the PROMINENCE will be MAINTAINED, as our motto is NEVER TO SACRIFICE QUALITY OF WORK TO ECONOMY OF MANUFACTURE.

THE ONE PRICE SYSTEM!

UNIFORM AND FAIR PRICES TO ALL PURCHASERS.

INAUGURATED APRIL 15, 1823.

Having upon this basis doubled our already immense trade, our position is assured, and every customer is fairly and honorably treated.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.

As we are the ONLY manufacturers in OUR LINE that have adopted this system of FAIR DEALING, it is not SURPRISING that our COMPETITORS should venture the opinion that we are making cheap and inferior Pianos, FOR THEY MUSTSAY SOMETHING TO UPHOLD THE OLD DISCOUNT SYSTEM.

OUR ANSWER.

We have received the HIGHEST AWARDS and PLAUDITS OF THE WORLD; 32 PRIZE MEDALS over all competitors, and over 20,000 of our instruments are daily giving TESTIMONY to their EMINENT superiority and DURABILITY.

FOR POWER AND QUALITY OF TONE, DELICACY OF TOUCH, PERFECTION OF MECHANISM, DURABILITY AND GENERAL EXCELLENCE OF WORKMANSHIP, WITH BEAUTY OF DESIGN AND FINISH,

WE CHALLENGE COMPETITION.

STEINWAY & SONS,

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT PIANOFORTES,

BEG TO ANNOUNCE A GENERAL REDUCTION

in their prices, in accordance with the decline in the premium on gold, and consequent decreased cost of imported articles used in the manufacture of pianofortes. In addition to their established styles of Pianofortes, STEINWAY & SONS, in order to meet a long felt and frequently expressed want, by persons of moderate means, taste, or culture, &c., have perfected arrangements for the manufacture of an entirely new style of instrument termed a thoroughly complete instrument of seven octaves, possessing the same in quality of tone, mechanism and workmanship as their highest-priced cotton-octave Pianos, the only difference being that this new style of instrument is constructed in a perfectly plain yet exceedingly neat exterior case. These new instruments will be supplied to those who desire to possess a thoroughly first-class "Steinway Piano" yet are limited in means.

AT EXCEEDINGLY MODERATE PRICES,

STEINWAY & SONS also desire to call special attention to their new

with Double Iron Frame, Overstrung Scale, Tubular Frame Action, and now full Metal Pedal, which are matchless in volume and quality of tone and surpassing facility of action, while standing longer in tune and being more impervious to atmospheric influences than any other upright pianos manufactured.

Price lists and illustrated catalogues mailed free on application.

EVERY PIANO IS WARRANTED FOR FIVE YEARS.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

NEW-YORK.

An application from EDWARD J. CURRIER was presented yesterday to the Board of Excise, requesting permission to open a liquor store at No. 629 Broadway. Mr. MANNERS said that the place really belonged to Reddy the Blacksmith, and of course no license could be granted to him. The license was refused.

The Trustees of the American Institute announce the following programme of a course of scientific lectures, to be delivered before the Institute, in the great Hall of the Cooper Union, New-York: Dec. 17, "The Battle Fields of Science," by ANDREW D. WHITE, President of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.; Dec. 24, "How Animals Move," by Professor E. S. MORSE, of the Peabody Academy of Science, Salem, Mass.; Dec. 31, "The Correlation of Vital and Physical Forces," by Professor G. F. BARKER, of Yale College, New-Haven, Conn.; Jan. 7, "The Air and Respiration," by Professor J. C. DRAPER, of the College of the City of New-York; Jan. 14, "The Connection of Natural Science and Mental Philosophy," by Professor J. BASCOM, of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.; Jan. 21, "The Constitution of the Sun," by Dr. B. A. GOULD, of Cambridge, Mass.; Jan. 28, "The Colorado Plateau—Its Canyons and Ruined Cities," by Professor J. S. NEWBERRY, of Columbia College, New-York.

The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Howard Mission and Home for Little Wanderers, of this City, was held at No. 46 New-Bowery. Mr. W. SANFORD presided, and Messrs. J. D. POSTS, (Secretary,) W. H. HURRED and H. L. BUCKNEY acted as tellers for the election, which was the special business before the meeting. The old Board of Trustees were re-chosen for the coming year, viz.: Messrs. A. H. Hatch, (of Fisk & Hatch, bankers,) Charles Collender, J. R. Hubbard, William Phelps, W. Sanford, W. H. Sutton, Caleb B. Knowls and James E. Thomson. This Board met soon after election and made choice of the following named officers: A. S. HATCH, President; C. COLLENDER, Vice-President; J. R. HOWELL, Secretary, and WM. PHELPS, Treasurer. The institution is in a most hopeful condition, but, as might be expected, greatly in need of funds with which to prosecute its Winter work.

MR. E. L. YOUMANS lectures this evening before the Mechanics' Society on the "Dynamics of Life," at Steinway Hall. He will probably take up the modern view of the correlation of forces and apply it to the phenomena of the living world. This is a highly interesting subject, and the lecturer's reputation as a popular expositor of scientific subjects is a guarantee that it will be clearly presented.

The officers and directors of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, and the Raritan and Delaware Bay Railroad Company, met at Delmonico's, in Fourteenth-street, on Tuesday evening, at a private banquet given by the former. The meeting was entirely of a social character, and, according to the statement of a prominent director of the Camden and Amboy Road, there was no discussion of the project of the Raritan and Delaware Bay Road for the building of a new line to Philadelphia.

A meeting of the graduates of Bowdoin College, Maine, residing in this City and vicinity, is to be held at the residence of DEXTER A. HAWKINS, Esq., on East Thirty-fourth-street, this evening, with a view to the organization of an Alumni association. There are said to be in this vicinity about seventy graduates of this College, which numbers among its Alumni LONGFELLOW, HAWTHORNE, PRESCOTT and PIERCE.

The ladies of the Church of the Holy Trinity will hold a Fair and Festival, (in aid of the Building Fund of the Sunday School,) at the Lecture Rooms, Sixth-avenue, corner of Forty-second-street, on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 16 and 17, from 12 M. to 10 P. M. This Church is engaged in very extensive missionary and benevolent works among the poor in the upper part of the City. They should receive a liberal patronage at their Fair.

An invitation has been issued to the artists of this City to meet to-morrow (Friday) evening, Dec. 17, at Room No. 24 Cooper Institute, for the purpose of organizing a society to take the necessary steps for forming an Art Union similar to those in Europe.

On Monday evening next, (not Thursday, as stated on the tickets,) a concert will be given in the lecture room of Bellevue Hospital, for the benefit of the patients of the institution, the expenses of which will be borne by the students. Among the artists who will perform on this occasion is Mr. LEVY, the popular cornet player.

The Mayor yesterday received from Postmaster JONES $212 55 as an additional contribution to the Avondale fund.

FREDERICK MAIGER, of No. 37 Degraw-street, Brooklyn, met EMMA GROSS and MARY A. WILLIAMS, alias "English Mary Ann," on Tuesday evening in William-street, when they seized his arms and dexterously took from his pantaloons pocket $20 in cash. Both women were arrested, and committed for trial at the General Sessions in default of $2,000 bail each. MARY did not know how old she was, and said she was a milliner. EMMA is a dressmaker and lives at No. 419 Pearl-street. She is better known as Emma Conorn, from her connection with COBURN, the pugilist.

The German Democratic Union General Committee met last evening at No. 200 Third-avenue under the presidency of Dr. SCHUMEN. After the usual routine business had been transacted the Committee considered the proposed new Constitution and by-laws which were presented by the special committee. The Committee adjourned without coming to any definite decision in regard to the proposed new code.

A number of young graduates and collegians, residents of this City, and members of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity, met last evening at Delmonico's and took measures to establish a New-York Club of the Society. A permanent organization was formed.

The third sociable of the season was given at the Park-avenue Hotel, corner of Forty-second-street and Fourth-avenue, last evening, by the proprietor, Mr. J. A. ROBINSON. It was attended by a large number of ladies and gentlemen, and was a very enjoyable affair.

Dr. HALL will speak on the "Northern Lights," this evening, before the Polytechnic Association, Cooper Building.

The directors of the Purim Association have determined to give no grand ball this year in celebration of the Jewish holiday their annual reunion was intended to commemorate. Instead of the habitual reunion, however, they offer two receptions, to be held at Delmonico's, and to be open to subscribers only. The first of these affairs, occurring, by-the-way, far in advance of the ordained feast, is announced for Monday evening next. Mr. ADOLPH L. SANGER is the Secretary of the Association, and to him all requests of subscription must be addressed.

STEPHEN P. ANDREWS delivered a lecture last evening on "Scientific Government," before the New-York Liberal Club, at their assembly room, No. 29 Third-avenue.

For several weeks past quantities of portable silver plated goods have been missed almost every day from the store of LUCIUS HART, at Nos. 4 and 6 Burling-slip. GEO. DICKSON, the colored porter, was arrested last evening after leaving the store, and found in possession of two dozen silver tablespoons, two dozen desert, and three dozen teaspoons, all valued at $42. Other property, stolen from his employer, was found in his residence in Williamsburg. DICKSON will be arraigned before Justice HOGAN to-day. It is supposed that nearly $1,000 worth of goods have been stolen in the manner described.

GEORGE MONCHIER, a native of Scotland, was found quite ill in the street Tuesday and died yesterday at Bellevue Hospital. A man named WALTER died suddenly yesterday, at No. 371 Broome-street, from the effects of hemorrhage of the lungs. Coroner ROLLINS held inquests in both cases.

Some of the leading Wall-street men had a consultation yesterday afternoon with regard to the proposed removal of the Stock Exchange. Among the locations prominently mentioned are the Astor House and Mr. A. T. STEWART's marble palace, at Broadway, Reade and Chambers streets. Union-square and the site of the old Herald office are also talked of.

A fire occurred last evening on the second floor of No. 45 Gold-street, occupied by S. SPROAT, manufacturer of briar wood pipes, whose loss of $3,000 is fully covered by insurance. FREDERICK GARRE, machinist, first floor and basement, was damaged $500; loss, $300. MARSH & CO., third floor, were damaged $500, and Mr. O'BRIEN, fourth floor, $500, but both were fully insured. It is estimated that $600 will be required to repair the building, which is fully insured.

ELIHUE POLHAMUS, for several years past Assistant Superintendent of the Police Telegraph, died, last evening, at his residence in Eighty-third-street, of inflammation of the lungs. The deceased has in different capacities been connected with the Police force for the past eighteen years.

Dr. Carroll, pastor of Lee-avenue Reformed Church.

It is understood that there are thirty persons indicted in connection with the recent election frauds, and among them several officials. There is much squirming around the City Hall and Court House. There is much anxious inquiry and much fear lest the District-Attorney shall say, "Thou art the man" to some who "would rather not."

MR. HAMILTON W. SHIPMAN, an oil merchant in New-York, owning a dilapidated and dangerous shanty standing at the corner of Columbia and Vine streets, was summoned before Justice WALSH yesterday, on complaint of Dr. W. H. TRAVER, Sanitary Inspector. The Justice fined Mr. SHIPMAN $25, and said he should do the same thing every time he was brought before him on the same kind of a complaint. He advised him to take down the house.

The property owners on the line of Union-street, who were in favor of a wooden pavement of Nicolson pattern, have discovered that they cannot have it without a violation of the law by the Commissioners, who are required to advertise for proposals, and to award the contract to the lowest bidder.

LONG ISLAND.

DANIEL HIGGINS, Jr., has resigned his position as Trustee of Whitestone.

The house of Mr. WEEKS, of Hyde Park, was robbed of $800 in greenbacks, on Friday night last, by a man who had been in his employ but two days.

The people of Queens County are complaining bitterly of the high rate of taxation to which they are subjected by special legislation. The following is the rate fixed by the Supervisors on the $100 for the current year: Jamaica, $1 66; increase, 6 cents. Newtown, $4 10; increase, $1 62. Hempstead, $1 76; increase, 11 cents. North Hempstead, $1 46; decrease, 10 cents. Flushing, $2 28. Oyster Bay, $1 41; increase, 27 cents. The corporation tax in Jamaica will be thirty-three cents on the hundred. The school tax twenty-five cents on the hundred. The old village bounds of Flushing embrace taxable property to the amount of $1,204,315. The new village bounds embrace taxable property to the amount of $1,886,480. The amount of taxable property gained by increase of the village limits is $662,165.

A convention of the citizens of Jamaica will be held to-day, to induce the action being taken to abolish toll roads and bridges in Queens County, prior to the sitting of the grand Convention on Saturday.

On Monday morning, the North Bent way train, due at Hicksville at 7:44 A. M., left at that station several mailbags, containing the mail matter from the Post Offices on the North Bent branch, to go east by the regular mail train, which arrives from New-York at 10:20 A. M. The Postmaster was sent at the depot to receive the mail, and when search was made for the bags they could not be found. The mails on that branch are closed ones, as there is no route agent between Hicksville and North Bent. It will be remembered that the Huntington mailbag was stolen from that station some months since under similar circumstances, and was afterward found cut open a short distance from the depot.

The plans for Mr. STEWART's railroad are all in the office, and the route fixed as far as the western boundary of the purchase, which lies about four miles east of Jamaica. All the farms on the eastern side of the Plain which were necessary to straighten Mr. STEWART's line in that direction have been purchased but one.

Last evening an officer of Astoria assaulted a gray-haired gentleman and two elderly ladies at the Astoria Ferry. He struck one of the ladies with a club and felled her to the ground. The second lady was knocked down about half a dozen times by this burly official, and badly injured. The crowd that had gathered interfered, and prevented further abuse being inflicted. The man is to be arrested on complaint of several citizens.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT is erecting a splendid residence for his son-in-law, PARKE GODWIN, in Roslyn.

The decision of Commissioner DELANO in relation to taxing farmers as produce brokers is opposed by the farmers on the Island. They have formed a society to contest the decision.

The Jamaica Town Hall is rapidly approaching completion, and when finished will be the largest and most attractive building in Queens County.

The endeavor to procure the incorporation of Ravenswood has again proved unsuccessful. Judge ARMSTRONG refused to grant the request of the petitioners owing to a legal defection in the papers.

Judge ARMSTRONG has appointed HENRY TROWBRIDGE and WILLIAM B. WILSON Commissioners to open Jamaica-avenue to the river.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

MRS. JANE THOMS, a resident of Riverdale-avenue, Yonkers, soon after getting up, yesterday morning, complained of being sick, and went to bed again. Some one, on going to her room with some refreshments, found her dead in bed. The deceased was a native of Scotland, about 66 years old.

Under the new management work has been resumed on the Harlem River and Portchester Railroad, so far as the construction of the long wharf on the north side of Harlem River, opposite Second-avenue, is concerned; the contract entered into for the work being carried out by the new Board of Directors.

The ladies of the Reformed Church at Mount Vernon gave a supper and an entertainment of music and tableaux, at Union Hall, in that village, on Tuesday evening, for the benefit of their building fund. They have got the foundation walls of a new house of worship completed. It will be a substantial stone edifice, forty-five feet front by eighty deep, and will be finished and furnished in good style.

NEW-JERSEY.

The name of the man who was killed by a train on the New-Jersey Railroad at Metuchin, on Monday, was JAMES S. BROWN. He had been a resident of Scranton, in Pennsylvania, and engaged in the shoe business there with the gentleman who identified his remains. He was blind in one eye and almost blind in the other, and hard of hearing as well; and it is to these afflictions, coupled probably with an impression that the trains passed over the road on the right track, that the accident is to be attributed.

A couple of horses attached to a rockaway containing two ladies and a child, were frightened, yesterday, in Montgomery-street, Jersey City, and became unmanageable. Proceeding down the street at a furious pace they brought the carriage into contact first with a wagon, and then with a car. Though one wheel of the carriage was demolished, the horses still kept their headlong pace, until they had thrown the carriage against the ferry gates at the foot of Montgomery street, and broken it into pieces. The child was saved from bodily harm by being thrown from the carriage into the arms of a gentleman upon the street. The ladies jumped out of the vehicle subsequently, and so escaped with a few scratches.

The Commissioners of Appeal have petitioned the Jersey City Common Council to take some action toward compelling the Morris Canal and different railroad companies to pay the taxes which they are at present exempted from paying by an act of the Legislature.

The death of Mr. WM. RANKIN at the age of 84, which occurred on Tuesday evening, removes one of the oldest residents and one of the most honored citizens of Newark. Mr. RANKIN came to reside in Newark before the year 1816, and had been prominently connected during a period of sixty years with the growth and manufacturing enterprises of the city. Although he gave liberally to churches, institutions of learning and in charity, his wealth at the time of his death amounted to over $300,000.

PETER MARTIN, DANIEL CORDY and MICHAEL KING were examined before Judge MILLS, in Newark, yesterday, and were committed for trial upon a charge of having robbed JAMES LACEY, a saloon-keeper, of Orange, of $1,200.

Two sportive young men, JAMES and THOMAS SPENCER, amused themselves on Tuesday evening at DAVID CARR's saloon, on Congress-street, Paterson, by throwing raw oysters at each other, dashing a mug of beer at the head of the saloon proprietor, assaulting and beating him after. They were at last persuaded to vacate the premises, and found themselves in prison, whence they were released upon giving bail in $500 to answer.

MR. ABNER WELCH, the President of the United Companies of New-Jersey, arrived home from Europe by the Ville du Havre on Tuesday.

MR. WILLIAM HOLDEN, of Paterson, reached home from San Francisco yesterday, having made the trip in six days.

The residence of Mr. J. SNYDER, on Broadway, Paterson, was entered by thieves Tuesday night, and robbed of linen and clothing to the value of $150.

This afternoon a match game will be played at Lake View by members of the Paterson Charing Club—those of fifty and over to play the younger members.

WM. ALVIN BARTLETT lectured in the Paterson Wigwam last evening to a respectable audience. Subject—"The Coming Question; Or, The Chinese in America." The lecture was given for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum.

New Custom House Regulation—Undervaluation of Sugar.

Under instructions from Secretary BOUTWELL, Colonel FRANK E. HOWE, Special Agent, and General PALMER, Appraiser of the Custom House, have of late been resampling and revaluing the sugars in the bonded warehouses. From representations made by Colonel HOWE in the matter, the Collector has received orders to stop the withdrawal of sugars from bond by merchants, unless they have received a certificate from the Appraiser that their sugar has been re-examined. It appears that discrepancies have been discovered in the present weight and quality of sugars compared with what was represented at the time of the original importations. The consequence is that some importers will have to pay an increase of duties of from two to three cents per pound, and also that the price of sugar, at least for the time being, will be raised. There are some thousands of hogsheads of sugar in the warehouses, and the increase of revenue to the Government by the new valuation will not be small. Colonel HOWE has preserved samples of the different lots of sugar for future reference and evidence. No particular parties are suspected of fraud, and if any exists it is among irregular sugar importers.
